Notes

Abraham Fair, second son of Peter Fair, was born in Frederick Co., Maryland, in 1815. In 1827 his parents moved to Montgomery County, Ohio, and there he grew to manhood and was married in the winter of 1835 to Christena DeLong. Immediately after his marriage he came to DeKalb County and settled on section 33, Butler Township, where he had previously entered 160 acres of land, adding to his first entry til he owned 313 acres. He was an energetic and successful business man. When he first came to the county, his nearest neighbor was three miles distant. He helped to build the first house in Auburn, a dwelling for Wesley Park, in which the first court was held. Politically he was a Whig til the organization of the Republican party, with which he afterward affiliated. He and his wife joined the Methodist Church in their young days, and have been among the most earnest workers in its ranks. Mr. Fair died in February 1867. Mrs. Fair is living at Auburn, aged 68, years. To them were born 12 [illegible] Auburn, a dwelling in [illegible] children, nine of whom are living: Barbara, David W., Matilda, William, James, Calvin, Mary, Alice and Laura. The deceased are Charles Irwin (twin brother of D.W.), Henrietta and Jane.

[illegible] Mrs. [illegible]

Mr. Fair's father, Peter Fair, came with his family to DeKalb County in 1835, and met with the first board of commissioners July 28, 1837. He was widely known and was recognized as a man of good judgment and executive ability. He was a successful farmer and accumulated a large property. He and his wife were members of the German Reformed Church.

From the History of DeKalb County by Martin: The pioneers of Butler Township were Peter Fair and his sons, Charles and ABRAHAM, Charles Crouse, George DeLong and the Surface family, Andrew and his sons, Jacob and John. The year 1835 witnessed their permanant settlement, although they came in the fall previous with a wagon and two spans of horses and built their cabins. They had to cut their own road from Squire Caswell's in Allen County, beyond Huntertown, five miles to the place where they settled, and also a considerable part of the way from Fort Wayne as the track was too narrow and crooked for a four-horse team.

Abraham Fair, one of the eight first settlers who came in October, 1834, is our informant. "Our plan" he says "was to come out, build cabins, make a little beginning and then return to our old homes in Montgomery County, Ohio (the Fairs may well have been from Montgomery County, but George DeLong, was from Miami County which is just across the two county lines) to winter and bring on the family in the spring. We brought in provisions enough to last until our return, excepting meat, calculating to kill deer enough to supply that. In this however, we were mistaken. We found deer quite scarce in those woods that fall. One day Andrew Surface found a hollow tree filled with honey, into which a bear had gnawed a hole and helped himself to as much as he wanted. On cutting the tree we found what was left of the Bruin's dinner, six gallons of honey. The first fair day after this, we found two bee trees, cut them and took the honey. We eight had all the honey we wanted for 20 days (and had little to eat except bread and honey) and on returning to Ohio we had 21 gallons of strained honey left."

"I was 22 years of age" continued Uncle Abraham "when I moved into the township 24 years ago. I weighed 160 pounds and my wife, 140. Now (1859) I weight 210 and my wife 200! We have had 11 children born in this township and 9 are still living. In 24 years I have not lost as many hours by sickness. I am now six feet four and a half inches high, and there never has been cleared land enough in DeKalb County to throw me down on. I still live on the farm where I first settled and have never moved but once, from one part of my farm to another."

1850 Census of Butler Township, DeKalb County, IN says:

Abraham Fair	38	M	Farmer	MD	born 1812
Christina A. Fair	34	F		Ohio	born 1816

James Ensry Fair	5	M		IN	born 1845
Calvin Fair	3	M		IN	born 1847

Also listed is Eliza Jane Work who was 10 and born in Indiana. Not sure if there was confusion about the two Eliza Janes or not but they appear to be the same age. Also not listed is Charles Irwin, who was the twin brother of David Winters Fair.

Also wonder if James Ensry was really James Ensly as there were Enslys as early settlers in De Kalb County also.

Land Transaction in Butler Township, DeKalb County, IN:

From Abraham Fair to David W. Fair, August of 1864

……

One thing noted on the Butler Township map of 1863 was that Abraham and Christina owned the farm my father bought just north of the Otis Fitch farm. I cannot be sure they lived on it, but it would seem that it was very possible that was their home as the other land he owned further north was later given to a son who lived on it. This makes the story of Nathaniel coming to see Sarah not at all far-fetched as it would be just north of his land that he purchased and that belonged later to Mathias and on which he had erected the saw mill and the carding mill which was to have been built in 1840. And they were surrounded by the Fair family so believe that it was very possible that that was the home of Abraham Fair and Christina DeLong. And it would have been just south of the land owned by Robert Work.

……

1850 Agriculture Census, Butler Township, DeKalb Co., IN...............Abraham Fair
80 acres of improved land
80 acres of unimproved land
Farm worth $2,000
Machinery worth $60
2 horses
4 milk cows
2 working oxen
20 other cattle

……

The 1860 Ag. Census gives us a little more of the story of what kind of a farmer Abraham was.
By 1860 Abraham had purchased more land 150 acres improved, and 262 unimproved.
His land was now worth $4,000
Had 5 horses, 8 milk cows and 14 other cattle.
50 Sheep, 25 pigs
He raised wheat, rye and oats, peas, beans, sweet potatoes
Made wine and cheese (must have sold cheese as he had 640 lbs.)(Work for Christina!!)
He had slaughtered animals worth $200, probably for eating and for sale.

……

He had a lot of molasses, and honey

2 females 10 to 16............1784-1790
1 female 16 to 26..............1774-1784
1 female 26 to 45..............1755-1774

Charles m, 1753
Michael before 1755
George before 1755

This would appear that the Michael Fair they are referring to here would be a generation older. Wonder if the Charles we have as the father of Michael is really Michael??? We do read that Michael Fair's heirs received land from the U.S. in Monroe Township, Miami County, Ohio. This is where we find the Fairs that we are tracing. So need more information on the family in Frederick Co., Maryland.

Also listed in the 1800 Census of Alleghany County, MD is a George Fair

GEORGE FAIR............................31101 02101 00
3 males under 10..............1790-1800
1 male 10 to 16.................1784-1790
1 male 16 to 26.................1774-1784
1 male over 45...................born before 1755
2 females 10 to 16............1784-1790
1 female 16 to 26..............1774-1784
1 female over 45...............before 1755

This puts George in the same age bracket as the Michael above. Making both of them in an older generation. The same generation as we have Charles, Michael's father in. This leads me to believe that we might have three brothers in Md........Charles, Michael, and George

If the subject of this family group sheet died in 1847 then he could hardly be the Michael whose heirs received the land in Ohio and moved there. From the will of Charles he appears to be the son of Charles and not Michael. Perhaps the Michael in the census and the one whose heirs got the land in Ohio was an uncle who had no children of his own. Note the land contracts below, that both Jacob and Michael, and Elizabeth seem to have received some of this land. One 1812, says Michael's heirs.

Since we do find that one of the Michael's fought in the War of 1812 it makes you wonder if the 1812 heirs who are getting land from the U.S. were getting it because of the death of Michael Fair a casualty of the War of 1812?? At the present time I do not have the family which Charles who married Mary Slider came from to see if he might have had a brother Michael or his father was Michael. Still much to learn'

……

Land Contracts in Monroe Township, Miami Co., Ohio as follows:
1812.............To Jacob from the U.S.
1812.............Michael's heirs from U.S.
1827.............Elizabeth, Michael, heirs
1826.............George and Catherine to Elizabeth 1826.............To Elizabeth from Carn, Catherine, George, Susannah. (My note says that these are the children of Michael, brother of Peter. We have Sophia as a child also.
1832.............George to Jacob

Apparently Carn was Abraham Carn who was the husband of Catherine or she was listed as Carn, Catherine.

Monroe Township is across the Miami River from Bethel township.

A deed dated April 29, 1826, Michael FAir and wife Sarah, sold to Henry Rinedollar, lot #18 in Taneytown for $300.00. Michael served in the War of 1812 with Capt. Knox's Co., of the Maryland Militia. Enlisted August 26, 1814, discharged September 8, 1814. Bounty land Warrant # 55689-160-55.

The above deed would also support the fact that they did not go to Miami Co., Ohio until after 1826.

This says that in both of the above transactions, Michael had a wife named Sarah, both in 1809 and 1826. Yet marriage to Elizabeth is said to have been Sept. 30, 1822. And this was found in the marriage licenses of Frederick Co., MD 1811-1840 and it says:
"September 30, 1822..........Fair, Michael to, Kuhn, Elizabeth........on page 46

……

Is it possible that we still do have 2 Michael Fairs and they are being confused?? Need to investigate each of the children in the 2 marriages and see what we can find. Perhaps the Michael who married Elizabeth Blickenstaff is another Michael and not the son of Charles and Mary. It appears that he was in Miami Co., in 1812, and Michael, son of Charles reportedly came later. Needs to be sorted out if possible.

Would hardly be possible to have been born in 1778 and married by 1793 being only 15 years old.

Merchant FAIR

From the biography of Abraham FAIR pages 493 and 494, 'History of DeKalb County, Indiana', Inter-State Publishing Company, Chicago, 1885. Abraham FAIR is the second son of Peter FAIR by his first wife. Abraham was born in Frederick County, Maryland, in 1815. According to his biography in 1827 his parents moved to Montgomery County, Ohio. There Abraham married Christena DE LONG in 1835. Immediately after his marriage they (members of the FAIR, DELONG, and SURFACE families) moved to DeKalb County, Indiana. Abraham settled on Section 33, Butler Township where he had previously entered 160 acres of land. He built a small cabin and cleared and improved his land, adding to his first entry till he owned 313 acres. When he first came to the county his nearest neighbor was three miles distant. He helped to building the first house in Auburn, a dwelling for Wesley Park, in which the first court was afterward held. Politically he was a Whig till the organization of the Republican party, with which he afterward affiliated. He and his wife joined the Methodist Church in their young days.

Both Peter FAIR and Abraham FAIR are recorded in the 1840, Census for DeKalb County, Indiana. Peter is listed as having 1 male (Peter) between 50 and 60, one male between 5 and 10 and two males under 5. Also listed are one female between 30 and 40, his wife Sarah, and one between 5 and 10. For Abraham FAIR there is one male between 20 and 30 (Abraham) and 1 male under 5, one female between 20 and 30, his wife Christena, and two females under 5. Nearby is George DE LONG age between 40 and 50 years (possibly Abraham's father-in-law).

FOURTH GENERATION

4. Mary FAIR was born about 1802 in Frederick County, Maryland. She traveled with her father, 3. Peter FAIR, from Frederick County, Maryland, to Miami County in the early 1820s. On 4 January 1825 she marries 1. William GARRETSON (See Lewis GARRETSON Family) in Miami County, Ohio. Between 1827 and 1829 William and Mary move from Miami County, Ohio, to Tippecanoe County, Indiana. William and Mary GARRETSON have possibly four children. The 1830 Tippecanoe County Census shows William GARRISON between 30 and 40, two boys under 5, a woman (Mary) between 20 and 30 and a girl (daughter?) under 5.

Lewis GARRETSON states in his 1887 biography that he was the youngest of three sons born to William and Mary GARRETSON. According to Tippecanoe County Probate Court documents, William GARRETSON died in 1832 about the time of Lewis's birth. Also according to Tippecanoe County Probate documents William has three sons; Andrew (See ANDREW GARRETSON) born 28 October 1825, probably in Miami County, Ohio; Peter (See PETER GARRETSON) born 19 February 1830, probably in Tippecanoe County; and Lewis (See GARRETSON Family) born 11 November 1932 in Tippecanoe County. The Probate Court of Tippecanoe County appoints Hezekiah Snyder (or Snider) as guardian of the three brothers. Hezekiah posts security bond of $200 with Joseph Harkrader. Hezekiah remains guardian until 5 November 1850 when they finalize accounts.

There is a Hezekiah Snider listed in the 1860 Census for Prairie Township, Henry County, Indiana, enumerated 25 Jun 1860. Hezekiah is 50, Farmer, born in Virginia. His real estate is valued at $12,200 and personal property at $2670. With him is Ellen, 48, born in Ohio; Mary, 22, (all children are born in Indiana); Nancy, 19; Adaline, 15; Zachariah, 10; John, 8; Virginia, 5 and three farm laborers.

Mary GARRETSON (she did not resume her maiden name) remarries in Tippecanoe County on 26 November 1837 to Joseph HARKRADER (HARKRIDER/HARKRUDER). Mary HARKRADER had two (surviving) children by Joseph HARKRADER. According to 1853s Tippecanoe County court documents Mary has divorced Joseph HARKRADER. On 12 December 1850 a Joseph HARKRADER marries Sophia HARTY in Randolph County, Indiana.

The last name is spelled three different ways and there is confusion about Joseph's first name. In the Indiana State Library website Marriages Thru 1850, his name is listed as 'Joseph'. From the 1840 Tippecanoe County Census has a James HARKRADER. This James might be Joseph's father or sibling. Other documents say Henry HARKRADER. Joseph and Mary name their son Henry James; he may be a junior or named after his grandfather.

According to the biography of Lewis GARRETSON, when Lewis was fourteen (1846), he, his stepfather, and mother Mary HARKRADER moved from Tippecanoe County to DeKalb County, Ohio. In DeKalb County, the HARKRADER Family settles near Mary's brother, Abraham FAIR. The 1850 DeKalb County, Butler Township, Census lists Lewis GARRISON 19 as head of the household. Also listed in 1850 are Mary HARKRIDER, 40, with a Henry HARKRIDER, 9 and Mary HARKRIDER 10 years old. Mary had two children by Joseph HARKRADER; Henry James HARKRADER born about 1841 and Mary HARKRADER born around 1840 in Tippecanoe County.

In the 1860 Census for DeKalb County, Butler Twp, Abraham FAIR (Mary's brother), is listed immediately after Mary HARKRADER's and Louis (Lewis) GARRETSON's families.

Mary FAIR GARRETSON HARKRADER dies in 1863 in DeKalb County, Indiana. Found in the Miscellaneous Book "A Civil War Discharge, Recorders Office Courthouse, Auburn, Indiana (Dekalb County)" is the Will of Mary Harkrader, Recorded 7 August 1863. The will was written 19 April 1863. Mary must have died between 19 April and 7 August 1863. In the Will Mary mentions her three sons by William GARRETSON and her two children by Joseph HARKRADER. I assume that because the three older sons had received an inheritance from their father, William GARRETSON, they do not receive a great amount from their mother's estate. From the Will of Mary HARKRADER, '1st I will and bequeath to my son Andrew Garretson the sum of two dollars in money. 2nd I will and bequeath to my son Peter Garretson the sum of twenty five dollars in money. 3rd I will and bequeath unto my son Lewis Garretson the sum of thirty dollars in money. 4th I will and bequeath unto my daughter May Elizabeth Harkrader the sum of one hundred fifty dollars in money. Also my grey mare and two cows also my household goods and furniture _______ beds and bedding except those bequeathed to my son Henry Harkrader. 5th I will and bequeath unto my son Henry Harkrader all of the farm on which I now reside consisting of forty acres more or less also ______ beds and bedding consisting my own bed which I use myself and the bed he uses himself… Also all of my hogs and the choice of two colts provided my mare raises a colt this season …..If my mare raises a colt after my son Henry has made his choice of one of them, the other go to my son Peter Garretson in addition to what I here bequeath to him. The above legacies bequeathed to my son Henry Harkrader are on the condition that the said Henry Harkrader pay my funeral expenses _________.'

The 1863 Militia enrollments for Butler Township DeKalb County include Henry HARKRADER at 23 years of age along with his half-brother Lewis GARRETSON. Henry Harkrader later served with the 44th Indiana Volunteer Infantry Regiment. The 1863 landowners listing includes Mary HARKRIDER owning property in Butler Township. A later record shows the transfer of her real estate to Henry HARKRADER on 7 August 1863 as a result of her death and her will.

James H. HARKRADER is discharged in Nashville, Tennessee, from the Union Army 14 September 1865 as a private from Company K, Captain Moses B. Willis, 44th Indiana Volunteer Regiment, part of the Army of Tennessee. James H. had enlisted 10 March 1864 for three years, but was discharged early due to the end of the conflict. He wasn't paid until 23 September 1865. He is described as being born in Tippecanoe County, Indiana, 25 years of age, five foot six inches high, fair complexion, grey eyes, brown hair, and a farmer when enrolled.

In 1869 Henry HARKRUDER married Susanna Howk. Henry and his family are recorded in the 1870 Census for De Kalb County, Indiana, enumerated August 1870. Henry is listed as Henry Harkroder, 31, Farmer, real estate valued at $800, personal property at $440, and born in Indiana. Susanna is 20, Keeping House, born in Indiana. Their son George is 8/12ths years old and born in Indiana. Listed just below is William Huwk, 40, born in Pennsylvania, farmer; his wife Serrafita, 40, keeping house, born in Indiana; and Albert, 10, born in Indiana.

From the American Legion Graves Registration, James H. HARKRIDER dies 1 February 1874 at 35 years old, and was buried in Cedar Chapel Cemetery, DeKalb County, Grave No 5, Row 2, Lot 5. (See CEMETERIES AND GRAVE PHOTOS). Buried next to Henry is a 'HARKRIDER, M. H.' with no death dates; his sister May or Mary Elizabeth? Listed in the 1880 Census for Butler Township, Dekalb County, is his widow now married to Sigmund(?) GDEKELL(?), 23 and a farmer. Susanna HOWK, HARKRADER GDEKELL(?) is 27 and they have a daughter Effa who is 4. Living with them are Henry and Susanna HOWK HARKRADER's children; Clarrise(?), 8 and Henry James, 6.

PIONEER SKETCHES, CHAPTER VII, Butler Township. Butler is the south-western corner township of the county. It is six miles square and was organized as a civil township, September 5th, 1837. It has cedar creek (the largest stream, except St. Joseph river, in the county) running across the north east corner of Little Cedar from the north down through the center; and Black creek, a smaller, but never failing stream, through the west part; so that it is well supplied with living water. The land in this township is generally rich, and along the streams, pleasantly undulating. Between the streams there is some flat, wet land. Taken altogether however, it is quite a good township of land.

The first settlers consisted of Peter Fair and his sons, Abram and Charles; Charles F. C. Crouse, George De Long and Andrew, Jacob and John Surface. These eight came into the township first in October, 1834, with a four horse team and wagon. They had to cut their own road from Squire Caswell's in Allen county, beyond Huntertown – five miles to the place where they settled and also a considerable part of the way from Fort Wayne, as the track was too narrow and crooked for a four horse team. Abram Fair, one of the eight is our informant.

"Our plan" he says "was to come out, build cabins, make a little beginning and then return to our old homes in Montgomery Co., Ohio to winter and bring on the family in the spring. We brought provisions enough with us to last till our return, excepting meat – calculating to kill deer enough to supply that. In this, however, we were mistaken. We found deer quite scare in those woods that fall. One day, Andrew Surface found a hollow tree (on Black creek where Peter Simon's ashery now stands) filled with honey, into which a bear had gnawed a hole and helped himself to as much as he wanted. On cutting the tree we found what was left of Bruin's dinner, six gallons of honey. The first fair day after this, we found two bee trees, cut them, and took the honey. We, (eight,) ate all the honey we wanted for twenty days, (and we had but little to eat except bread and honey) and on returning to Montgomery county, we had twenty-one gallons of strained honey left.

But let us hear Uncle Abrams's – "coon story" – wish I could tell it on paper as he did orally – with his expressive jovial countenance and occasional interlude in the form of a hearty laugh – wish I could, but I can't. "After finding the bee trees," says he, "Andrew Surface found a hollow tree with two 'coons' in and cutting them out, he brought them to our shanty. We took the hides off, and hung the meat out in the frost over night, and in the morning, Charley Crouse, who was our cook, prepared them for out breakfast. Being rather meat- hungry, we all eat of the 'coon' meat except John Surface – though he at some of the gravy. After breakfast, we all went at cutting and hewing logs and making clapboards for William Surface's cabin. John and I went to sawing a large oak for clapboards. John didn't pull the saw very strongly. 'Ah,' said I to him, 'You didn't eat coon or you could have sawed better.' – Presently he thought the saw went too hard and he must have the iron wedge from the shanty to drive in the kerf. My father, Peter Fair, was lying in the shanty and John, supposed he was asleep. So he went to the skillet where there was a quarter of a 'coon' left from breakfast, and taking of the lid, he took up the meat, and after smelling it awhile applied his teeth and scraped the bone in short meter. All this time my father lay pretending to be asleep, but struggling to keep from laughing. When John returned and took hold of the saw again, I remarked to him, that he must have either been eating coon or smelling of it he pulled so much stronger. When Crouse went to cook dinner my father told the joke and it was sometime before John heard the last of the 'coon story'.

Abram Fair and "Charley" Crouse are still living in the Township. "I was 22 years of age" continued Uncle Abraham, "when I moved into the township 24 years ago. I weighed 160 pounds and my wife 140. Now (1859) I weigh 210 and my wife, 200!! We have had 11 children born in this township and 9 are still living. In 24 years I have not lost as many hours by sickness. I am now 6 feet 4 ½ inches and there never has been cleared land enough in Dekalb County to throw me down on. I still live on the farm where I first settled and have never moved but once, from one part of my farm to another."

By 1860 Abraham FAIR owned over 400 acres of land, and had 5 horses, 8 milk cows, and 14 other cattle. He had 50 sheep, and 25 pigs. He raised wheat, rye, oats, peas, beans, and sweet potatoes that year. And he made wine and cheese, 640 lbs! A lot of work for his wife, Christina!! He also had a quantity of molasses and honey.

"The first consideration of the early settler was a shelter for himself and his family, and furniture was frequently the work of his own hands. Some, like Abram Fair and his party, came out, built cabins (in 1834), and, returning East to winter, brought out their families in the spring (of 1835)."

From the "History of DeKalb County--1885," page 493:
"Abraham Fair, the second son of Peter Fair, was born in Frederick County, Maryland in 1815. In 1827 his parents moved to Montgomery County, Ohio and there he grew to manhood and was married in the winter of 1835 to Christina DeLong. Immediately after his marriage, he came to DeKalb County, Indiana and settled in Section 33, Butler Township, where he had previously entered 160 acres of land."

The 1850 DeKalb County Census shows that Abraham was in Indiana in about 1836, when his daughter, Barbara was born. Abraham has seven additional children in his family, the youngest being Calvin who was born in about 1847. All of these children were born in Indiana.

Notes for CHRISTIANA DELONG:
On the 1850 DeKalb County, Indiana Census, Christiana is reported as a male. Farther down the list, her daughter, Matilda Adaline was also reported as male. I think this Census taker was in a hurry or distracted, to make two identical errors in the same family's report.

Children of PETER FAIR and SARAH SURFUS are:
v. HANNAH^3 FAIR[30], b. Abt. 1831, Ohio.
vi. PETER FAIR[31], b. Abt. 1832, Ohio.
vii. JOHN FAIR[32], b. Abt. 1834, Ohio.
viii. JACOB FAIR[33], b. Abt. 1838, Indiana.
ix. ANDREW FAIR[34], b. Abt. 1841, Indiana.
x. SAMUEL FAIR[35], b. Abt. 1843, Indiana.
xi. CATHARINE FAIR[36], b. Abt. 1845, Indiana.
xii. MICHAEL FAIR[37], b. Abt. 1848, Indiana.

3. ANNA MARY^2 FAIR (CHARLES^1)[1,2,3] was born 01 January 1783 in Near Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland[4], and died 01 July 1860 in Richardson County, Nebraska. She married SMITH CORNELL[5] 1802 in Frederick County, Maryland[6], son of BENJAMIN CORNELL and SARAH. He was born 29 December 1776 in <North Carolina>, and died 10 March 1846 in Carroll County, Maryland.

Notes for ANNA MARY FAIR:
"Mary Fair" was named in the will of her father, Charles Fair. The will was made 18 February, 1792 in Frederick County, Maryland. Her mother was Mary--probably Mary Shlyter/Slider. Mary Slider-Fair, a widow with 6 children, married Benjamin Cornell, a widower with 9 children. Smith Cornell, son of Benjamin married Anna Mary Fair, daughter of Mary Slider-Fair. They were step-brother and sister. Smith was 16 years old and Anna was 10 when their families were combined.

A letter dated 25 January 1966 written by Odyne Cornell (grandaughter of Anna's son, John) says:
"Grandpa Cornell's mother (Anna Mary) was a Fair, descended from a Peter Fair who came over in the Mayflower and was a Puritan." (I have not researched or proven this information.)

Anna Mary ("Mary") Fair and Smith continued to live in Frederick County, Maryland after their marriage in 1802.
They were among the heirs of Charles Fair who sold 60 acres to Henry Rinedollar--part of "The Resurvey of Brothers Agreement--" on 8 February 1809. The land was sold for Five Hundred and Sixty Four Pounds. (Land Record Book WR 34) They lived near Taneytown, and in the part of Frederick County that became Carroll County in 1837.
Anna (Mary) lived in Carroll County until the death of her husband in 1846. She left Maryland in 1849-1850 with her son, Charles and Anna, his wife. (see "notes" for Charles S. Cornell) Samuel may also have accompanied them on this trip. They went to Ohio and Indiana, where Anna's sons, John and Benjamin and her brother, Peter Fair were living. William and Samuel made their move to northeast Indiana in 1850. Mary must have been quite contented to be reunited with her sons and brother who had so long ago moved from Maryland.
Charles went on to Illinois, and was in Madison County (near St. Louis) at the time of the 1850 census--

Hi Doug,

Am impressed with your genealogy. I will print it for our files and then will probably check and see if you have things that might be added to our website. Might take me a while as I am in the process of possibly buying another home. If it all goes through I will also be making a move which is always a big job when you have a collection of more than 50 years to dispose of!!

A couple things I saw that I might make a comment about.

I have a question about the death of Christina DeLong Fair, wife of Abraham Fair, son of Peter. See the following:

1880 Census of Auburn, DeKalb County, IN...........page 106A

Christina Fair................widow................female, white, 65..........born Ohio..........keeping house......1815
Father born KY............mother born PA (questions arise about these places)
Laura L. Fair............dau, single.............female, white, 19.........born IN...1861
Father born in MD.............mother born in Ohio (appears to be correct)

....

From the Old Settler's Meeting reports, of June 27, 1901..........

Christina Fair was reported as having died during the past year, meaning she might have died about 1900/1901. She was in the class of "Pioneer" because she had come to DeKalb Co., before 1846. After 1846 they were called Old Settlers.

…………………………………………………………………………………

And in the DeKalb County History of 1885 she was listed as Christina Fair, living in Auburn, IN.

So apparently the date you have of her death of August 10, 1864 must be incorrect. I will check later to see who may have died in 1864.

Christina's mother died in the year 1872 and Christina was named in her will as Christina Thayer (I believe this to be a misprint of the name of Fair/Fayre or whatever) I found no evidence that she had married, but also have not found a place where she was named as being buried.

You mentioned a little later that perhaps the nearby George DeLong might be Abraham's father-in-law. That is not the case, though her father was George DeLong of Bethel Township, Miami Co., Ohio. He died in 1836 and Christina's mother was Elizabeth Statler. They did not come to Indiana. But Christina's uncle Joseph DeLong had several sons who did come to Allen and DeKalb Counties. George Washington DeLong was one of them and he is the George who is buried at Cedar Chapel (or Cedar Creek) Cemetery in Butler township. So he would have been a cousin of Christina's.

Four members of the George DeLong family form Miami Co., Ohio, came to Indiana with this group. That would be:

Christina, who married Abraham Fair
Sarah Elizabeth, who married Nathaniel Fitch

Ellen, who married John Surface
Washington DeLong, who settled in Allen Co.

Several cousins, then, son's of Joseph also came this way:

George Washington DeLong
Solomon DeLong, who settled in Concord township, near Newville
Joseph DeLong, Jr. who settled in one of the counties to the north

For a long time I thought that perhaps George W. DeLong was the father of Christina and Sarah, too, but it proved to be untrue. They were just cousins.

Interesting also is that my father purchased one of the pieces of property that belonged to Abraham Fair. We lived there about 1946. My husband's family farm was just south of that land. And that farm had originally belonged to Peter Fair and was part of the land that went to Joseph Shryock and my family and I now own 60 acres of that land. I have the abstract that tells that it had originally belonged to Peter Fair.

Thanks so much for all you sent. Now will take the time to go over it more thoroughly later. Just thought you might be interested in those tidbits!

Betty,

Thank you for responding to my inquiry. I have done some research including visiting DeKalb County and their excellent Genealogy center in Auburn. I found the Cedar Cemetery, but without a guide could not find the graves of Mary Fair Garretson Harkrader and her children Henry Harkrader and Mary Harkrader. I have attached what I have assembled on the Fair and Harkrader families. Mary Harkrader died without ever marrying and Henry Harkrader died after marrying in 1870 leaving a widow and two children.

I have enclosed what I have gathered from websites and from visiting the DeKalb Counties and from Great-Great Grandfather Lewis Garretson's biography from Huntington County. According to Lewis his father was of Dutch and Irish descent and was from Virginia while his mother was of Dutch descent and from Maryland.

Somehow I have to trace William Garretson back to his origins. I know he died in Tippecanoe County in 1832, the year Lewis was born, but I have no idea where. I obtained copies from the Tippecanoe County genealogy association copies of the original probate court documents, but nothing said where he was buried. I have been focusing on Virginia because of Lewis's biography. Maybe I ought to expand and include Maryland and see if I have any luck.

Thanks,

Hello Doug,

Shirley turned your e-mail over to me. I do most of the text and genealogy on the website. I wish I had more to give you on William Garretson, but I do not. Basically I have William and Mary Fair were married in Miami Co., Ohio on Dec. 24, 1824. I believe that Shirley said you mentioned a January 1825 date and that is possible. Perhaps the December date was the date the filed for a license.

The only information I have is what came from Kathy Heidel's website and since you have William's name I assume that you perhaps visited that web site also. At one time I joined the Fair Family forum on Yahoo, but it has been ages since I have heard from anyone there or have gone to visit the site. It would appear that the family comes from Maryland and were probably neighbors and friends of the Peter Fair family. Apparently after William's death, Mary married a Harkrider and had children with both husbands. I have had an interest in the Fair family though they are not really apart of my husband's family.........but several of the family married into the Fair family. Christina DeLong was a gr gr gr gr aunt and she married Abraham, brother of Mary. My husband's ancestor, Nathaniel Fitch married Sarah DeLong who was a sister to Christina. Then one of Nathaniel's children, Fidelia, married Christian Norman Fair and they moved to Kansas. So I had done research on that family, but never really found anything more about the Garretson family more than Kathy had in her Fair genealogy. Basically nothing but his name, who he married and their 3 children. I have taken a lot of photos at the Cedar Chapel Cemetery where Peter Fair and family are buried. My husband's family, and now my husband, are also buried there.

I briefly checked Genforum, and they have just one query on the John Garretson family of Maryland. I don't know if there is a connection or not. Then went to Ancestry.com and really found a lot of William's but none that fits into the Fair family. Wish I could point you to another researcher but don't know if Kathy knows any more about the Garretson family or not, but I doubt it. I don't know anyone else for you to contact. And perhaps you have already exhausted all those avenues. I will keep your e-mail address and keep you in mind in case I should find anything.

Do you know where William was buried?? I would like to have your family and how you fit into the Fair and Garretson families. I have Peter and his family but need some of the later generations. Especially since your line is maternal from the Fairs.
I have William and Mary and 3 boys but that is all I have. My genealogy stops there.
Thanks for contacting us.

Betty,

I forgot to ask in my original email - if you have photos of the Hardrader grave markers I would like to add them to my history. I have Peter Fair and his wife Sarah's stones, but I couldn't find Mary Fair Garretson Harkrader or her children.

Thanks,

Doug

Betty,

Thanks. Having Hannah Fair, half-sister to GGG Grandmother Mary Fair, married to an Andrew Garretson/Garrison has been interesting. I have others try to connect this Andrew Garretson/Garrison to my family. However, are far as I can find out this Andrew is not related.

What makes it interesting and confusing is that William's first son was named Andrew and I found him in the 1860 Census for Allen County married to a Hannah born in Ohio with two children Amanda born about 1852 and Francies born about 1858. If he had married his mother's half-sister that would have been a bit too much family closeness.

I tracked Andrew and Francis/Frank to Carthage, Missouri, with Andrew's brother Peter and his family. I could never find what happaned to Hannah or Amanda. There are two Amanda Garretsons married about the right time in Indiana, but I lose track of them and their spouses after the marriage date.

Thanks,

Doug

Just a couple other things I ran across that might be different than what you have.

I had mentioned that I didn't know where Christina DeLong Fair was buried but looked up the C. G. Fair at the Cedar Creek Cemetery and that is Abraham and Christina's grandson, Carlton G. Fair, and the date mentioned for his death is really his birthdate, Aug. 10, 1864. He is buried there with his wife Mahala. I am still looking for Christina's burial place.

I checked on the Harkrader's too and in case you haven't discovered the 2nd husband of Susanna Houk.... he was Leonard Gaskell in the 1880 census. The Gaskell's had the farm right next to the Cedar Chapel Church at one time. I wonder which family Susanna or Susan Houk came from (spelled Houk - Houck also). I have several Houk families but do not have a Susan or Susanna.

I notice on Page D-7 that you have listed as a neighbor to the Gaskells as William HUWK. Actually that is William Thrush, and his wife Serepta, and son Albert. William Thrush and Serepta are buried at the Huntertown Cemetery on Cedar Canyons Road. I know their descendants well.

Will be anxious to add your information to my file. Thanks so much. Don't forget to catch me up sometime right down to you and your family?? I have enjoyed visiting the genealogy library at Auburn also. So much to do and so little time!

Betty,
I am entering the family information as given in the deed of sale for Peter Fair's real estate in DeKalb County on 9 April 1856. I have some questions you can probably answer. The deed names several children who I do not have in my data base. I don't know if they belong to Barbara Crouse, Sarah Surfus, or another wife, who I have not yet entered (?)
They are:
Mary Harkrider
Sarah Ensey
Elizabeth Lung
Louisa Simons
Merchant Fair (Is this the same person as Michael Fair, who is not named in this deed?)
Rebecca Miller

Name of Sarah____wife of Charles Fair--(son of Peter)? SARAh Virginia Simon b 1817

>From my notes for Michael Fair (son of Charles and Mary Slider Fair)
"On April 29, 1826 Michael Fair and wife Sarah sold to Henry Rinedollar lot #18 in Taneytown for $300"
"Beth Cornell-Gerig sent a copy of her notes of Marriage Licenses in Frederick County, Maryland 1811-1840, Page 46, that includes the following report:
September 30, 1822--Fair, Michael to Kuhn, Elizabeth"
Question: By the above notes, Michael's wife, Sarah did not die until after April 1826. However a Michael Fair was married to Elizabeth Kuhn in September 1822--HELP!!! Was there another Michael Fair in Frederick County?
--

The Probate abstract that I have is for a Michael Fair, dated 18 february 1809 in Miami County, Ohio. and his wife was named Elizabeth. Do you suppose this Michael Fair is the brother of our Charles Fair? And he is the one who married Elizabeth Kuhn? Elizabeth Blickenstaff married to a Michael Fair--I don't have anything on that one, I don't think.

If the Montgomery Co Burial record is right, and Sarah, wife of Michael Fair died in 1878 at the age of 92+ years, then this Michael didn't have a second wife.

Question--was that comment "about a Peter Fair coming over on the Mayflower and being a Puritan" in MY notes? If so, where? I certainly need to change that, because I am sure this family was German!

Shaffers--Caroline Minerd's mother was Barbara Shaefer/Shaffer/Shefferin--born in Woodbury Township, Bedford Co PA June 1799; died Oct 1882 in Allen Co IN. Barbara was married to John Minerd born 1801 in Fayette Co PA; died Mar 1898 in Allen Co IN. (No dates--no other info) Her parents were Johannes Schefer and Elizabeth___. There were Shaffers in Van Wert County --original patentees, I think--at the same time that Caroline's parents were there. They were also in Allen Co. That's why I think they probably go together.

Well, this is a jumble of thoughts, isn't it?

It's good to have someone to "think" with.

Betty,

I am just trying to get used to a new email service. I had been using Netscape, but my new Norton Antivirus seems to want me to have Outlook installed or it won't work, and I don't want to use outlook express, so am trying out the Earthlink mail box that comes with my Internet Server. It is taking some getting used to. Main problem is that I can't import my address book. I have to manually enter my old addresses, and when I printed them out there were 46 pages. I think I can probably avoid entering SOME of them, don't you think?

Thank you so much for the new information about the Fair family. May be some time before I get back to you on it. I am expecting my daughter from Kansas to come in tomorrow with 5 of her children for a few days, so on top of the mess I have with this Email system, I will just have to let new stuff just pile up for a while. She is coming for a doctor consultation for carpal tunnel problems. The doctors in rural Kansas don't have much to offer her in that regard.

I still haven't heard back form Kathy Heidel. I think maybe she just doesn't want to get back into the trading information mode. I didn't send a new email to Donald Fair, although it seems that he was on to some promising research on the German connection 2 years ago. Maybe you could see if his address is still good. You certainly have a lot more to offer him for "trades" than I have.

As I start entering your new data, I will let you know if I have questions or conflicts. I never know until I am doing the data entry if something just doesn't seem right and then I go off trying to discover what it is!

Thank you again

GARRETSON FAMILY FROM MARYLAND

I'm searching for the ancestors of John Garretson, born about 1757 in Maryland, died in Indiana about 1833. It is thought that his parents were Job and Elizabeth Garretson, but it unknown when or where they were born. However, in the 1798 assessment records of Baltimore Co. MD, a Job Garretson, Sr., Job Garretson Jr., and a Cornelius Garretson were listed, each owning parcels of land occupied by one of the other two, possibly indicating a family relationship. Does anyone have any information on any of these individuals?

Colleen - it's been awhile since you posted your request for informtion on parents of John Garrettson. Have you been able to find anything yet? I'm still looking, but have had no luck. John's son William b. 1812 was my ancestor.

This appears to be the same Charles Fair,b. about 1753, d. March 1792 Fredrick Co. MD, married to Mary Slider in 1777, they had seven children:Michael b. 1778,d. Sept. 25, 1847 Ohio, Peter b. March 15, 1780 d. Nov. 15, 1853 Dekalb Co. Indiana, Jacob b. 1781, d. Feb. 10, 1854 Miami Co. Ohio, ANNA MARY, b. Jan. 1, 1783, d. July 1, 1860 Richardson Co. Nebraska, Charles b. 1788, Elizabeth, b.Aug 2, 1789, John Fair(my ancestor), b 1786 Fredrick Co. MD, d. 1829 Fredrick Co. MD.

A Working Draft

In the early 1950's I remember my Grandmother Fair receiving a book that fascinated me beyond belief. The book was "William Holloway of Taunton, Massachusetts". That book was the beginning of my journey into American History and my ancestors part in the New World. My mothers name was listed in the book along with the rest of her siblings and to an 8 year old that was really exciting. Then in the early 1960's a cousin, Helen King, had begun to trace the Fair Family History and I was really fascinated with what she had accomplished. I began asking questions and keeping track of my family history. Many family members brought me old photos and memoriblia. I delightfully received these and hunted for more members of my growing ancestory.

Then in the 1980's my sister, Willalea, started becoming involved and I really enjoyed sharing with her. There is nothing any more boring than to have someone talk to you about their family, if you are not related to that person. So having company join in was fantastic! And in the 1990's Roy Fair a cousin who, by chance, had lived with my family during W.W.II became involved in the search. Roy had a wonderful ability to sort and separated information, he also had much help from his wife Susan who was involved in genealogy also. Roy died May 4, 1997 just 3 weeks after my brother had died. I was heartbroken. Both of these men died from heart related problems, this is the main killer in the Fair family. Susan sent a copy of Roy's work to me and I have combined his work with Willalea's and mine. I hope that you will enjoy and please feel free to write and make corrections. As I have said this is a working draft and I would be very happy to update.

She married George William "Bill" Welch Jan-01-1929 in Junction City, Geary Co., Kansas, son of Thomas Welch and Nettie McCrea.

Notes for Lillian Virginia "Tot" Fair:

Tot was an avid needleworker. There wasn't a needle that she didn't know how to use. She Tatted, Crocheted, Knitted, Sewed and Quilted. She was a Tailor and Alterations expert. During the Depression she took in sewing and ironing. Mom loved children and enjoyed teaching the little ones crafts. Fot a time she taught Knitting for the 4-H Clubs in Riley Co., KS. She was an excellient cook and was often called upon to help with Family Dinners and Weddings.

Mom loved life and had a special jest for living it. She worked hard and never seemed to mind. She was the family Decorator, Painter, Carpenter, and could do most anything. Mom and I shared a love for refinishing old furniture and I have many pieces we did together. She loved antiques and had many lovely things she had collected over the years.

Notes for George William "Bill" Welch:

Family Bible, Marriage License. Birth certificate from McLean County, Illinois gives birth date as Sept. 28, 1904. He was born in a log cabin in Heyworth, IL. He was raised on the Current River area in South Central Missouri. The Welch family, his Great Grandparents had come to Dent and Shannon Co., MO from Tennessee. The Welch Cave, and Spring were named for this family. Bill was in the 13th Cavalry, Mounted Machine Gun Troop, at Fort Riley, Kansas. While at Ft. Riley he met Lillian Virginia Fair at a dance held in Manhattan, Kansas Dec. 1928. Three weeks later they were married Jan 1, 1929, in Junction City, Kansas. He was discharged later in 1929.

He went to work as a night watchman at Kansas State University in 1933. In 1968 he retired as Painter Foreman. One of his accomplishments was that he was responsible for developing the "K-State Purple". While working at the college late in 1950 he became "leaded" and was unable to work for a year. Bill mixed all of the paint from scratch. I still have his formulas for all types of paint mixtures and also a few of the stones used in the cans to stir the paint. After he went back to the college to work, the paint was then purchased from manufactures.

Bill was an avid Sportsman and enjoyed fishing, hunting and float trips. I remember the wonderful stories he told about his life and family when he was growing up. He taught Neal and I to hunt and fish, just as he did when his family depended on the food he and his brothers would bring home from the woods and streams near their home. Only we did it as a sport, not from necessity. He talked about his dad and uncles working in the saw mills, the team of mule "Babe and Blue", and about the "patches" they farmed there in the Ozarks. And he loved the Cardinals Baseball Team. In fact Bill played baseball while in the Army at Ft. Riley.

He enjoyed his family and had great compassion and love for all people. He loved animals and was one of the first breeders of the Kerry Blue Terriers in Kansas. He also bred Rabbits and helped the young men at the Kansas Reform School in Topeka, KS start a Rabbit Club.

Sarah Fair was a daughter of Michael Fair and Sarah Crouse. I have some on them -- some documented, some conjecture. I believe Micheal was son of Charles Fair and Mary Slider (unproven but likely).
Here's some of my file:
1. MICHAEL2 FAIR (CHARLES1) was born 1778 in MD, and died September 25, 1847 in Chambersburg, Butler Twp., Montgomery Co., OH. He married SARAH CROUSE September 27, 1803 in Taneytown, Frederick (now Carroll) Co., MD. She was born Abt. 1785 in Taneytown, Carroll Co., MD, and died July 23, 1878 in Butler Twp., Montgomery Co., OH.

Notes for SARAH FAIR:
I don't know whose child it is, but in the 1880 census, a grandchild is living in their household, Franklin Phillips age 4 (so born abt. 1876). Since he was listed as a Phillips, he may well be William F.'s son, even though Wm. is listed as single.
vii. REBECCA FAIR, b. Abt. 1821, Frederick Co., MD; d. Aft. 1870, Montgomery Co., OH?.
Also see the website: http://www.tri.net/~kheidel/genealogy/ChasFair.html
I haven't had a chance to explore it much yet but it looks like they have a lot there.

The PETER FAIR FAMILY was in Frederick County, Maryland, in 1815, when ABRAHAM FAIR was born. Then moved to Ohio, Montgomery Co., in 1827.

ANNA LUNG is listed as a wife of PETER FAIR.
Probably Peter, Jr.

There are nine children listed above. Barbara Elizabeth is one person. The name appears on two lines in order to fit it on the page. These are the children of Peter Fair and his first wife who is believed to be Hannah Cornell. Note that Mary, who was inadvertently listed here as the fourth child, is, in fact, the eldest. Also, Mary's spouse is listed as William Garretson Harkrider. This is what is shown in my records but I suspect that Mary was married twice; the first husband being William Garretson, the second Husband with a last name of Harkrider. While the Fair family lived in Ohio, census records show that they had a neighbor named William Garretson.

Sometime between 1820 and 1830 the family moved from Maryland to Montgomery Co., Ohio and also during this time the first wife died. On 27 Jun, 1830, Peter Fair married his second wife, Sarah Surfus. The following eight children are the children of Peter Fair and Sarah Surfus.

Since George Delong settled with Abraham Fair in the same year, 1835, in the same place, Dekalb County, Butler Township and Abraham was married to Christena Delong, Sarah's sister, I would guess that they are brothers-in-law~~s~~.

Stories from the Dekalb History follows:

The pioneers of Butler Township were Peter Fair and his sons Charles and Abraham, Charles Crouse, George Delong, and the Surface family, Andrew and his sons Jacob and John. The year 1835 witnessed their permanant settlement although they came in the fall of the previous year with a wagon and two spans of horses and built their cabins. They had to cut their own road from Squire Caswell's in Allen County, beyond Huntertown, five miles, to the place where they settled; and also considerable part of the way from Fort Wayne, as the track was too narrow and crooked for a 4-horse team. Later in the same year Lewis Holbrook, Lyman Holbrook, Joseph Stroup, Henry and Michael Miller moved into the township. .... Henry Fair came in 1839......... "Abraham Fair" (one of the 8 first settlers who came in October, 1834) is our informant. Our plan says he was to come out and build cabins, make a little beginning and then return to our homes in Montgomery County, Ohio, to winter and to bring our families back in the spring. We brought provisions enough with us to last until our return, excepting meat- calculating to kill deer enough to supply that. In this, however, we were mistaken. We found deer quite scarce in those woods that fall. One day, Andrew Surface, found a hollow tree (on Black Creek, where Peter Simons' ashery now stands) filled with honey, into which a bear had gnawed a hole and helped himself to as much as he wanted. On cutting the tree we found what was left of the Bruin's dinner, six gallon of honey.

Also Wm. CAM

The first fair day after this, we found two bee trees, cut them, and took the honey. We eight had all the honey we wanted for twenty days (and had little to eat except bread and honey), and on returning to Montgomery County we had twenty-one gallons of strained honey left.

We will interrupt Uncle Abraham in his narrative to remark that when it is remembered that it was in Butler Township that Wesley Park and Joseph Miller lay out in the woods on a rainy night with new milk fresh from the cow for their entire bill of fare, surely it might be said that Butler was a land flowing with milk and honey.

But let us hear Uncle Abraham's coon story..wish I could tell it on paper as he did orally..with his expressive jovial countenance and an occasional interlude in the form of a hearty laugh ...wish I could but I can't. After finding the bee trees says he, Andrew Surface found a hollow tree with two coons in and cutting them out, he brought them to our shanty. We took the hides off and hung the meat out in the frost over night. In the morning, Charley Crouse, who was our cook, prepared them for our breakfast. Being rather meat hungary we all ate heartily of them except John Surface, who declared he would starve first, though he ate some of the gravy. After breakfast we all went cutting and hewing logs and making clapboards for William Surface's cabin. John and I went to sawing a big oak for clapboards. John didn't pull the saw very strongly. Ah, I said to him, you didn't eat coon or you could have sawed better.

Presently, he thought the saw went too hard and that he must have an iron wedge from the shanty to drive in the kerf. My father, Peter Fair was lying in the shanty, and John supposed he was asleep. So he went to the skillet where there was a quarter of a coon left from breakfast, and taking off some of the meat, he smelled it a while, applied his teeth and stripped the bone in short meter. All this time my father lay pretending to be asleep, but struggling to keep from laughing. When John returned and took hold of the saw again, I remarked to him that he must have either been eating coon or smelling it, he pulled so much stronger. When Crouse went in to cook dinner my father told the joke and it was some time before John heard the last of the coon story.

I was 22 years of age continued Uncle Abraham when I moved into the township 24 years ago. I then weighed 160 pounds and my wife 140. Now (1859) I weigh 210 and my wife 200. We have had 11 children born in the township and nine are still living. In the 24 years I have not lost as m any hours by sickness. I am now six feet four and a half inches tall and there never has been cleared land enough in Dekalb County to throw me down on. I still live on the farm where I first settled and have never moved but once- from one part of my farm to another.

Dekalb County History says that Andrew, John, and Jacob Surface came to DeKalb County in 1835 to settle. According to the stories in the history book there was also a William Surface that they built a cabin for. John may have not come with Ellen. She may have come later on and even may have had a later marriage as they were a little older when they had their children than most couples of the day Of course, so were Sarah and Nathaniel.

John Surfus

*Posted by A. Goodwin <agoodwin@ctlnet.com> on Thu, 27 Jul 2000

Surname: Surfus, DeLong, Murphy, Fair, Fitch

John Surfus, one of the best known of the early settlers of the region along the south side of DeKalb and north side of Allen counties, died at his home on the Allen county side of the line, March 31, 1891. He was born in Warren county, Ohio, Oct. 7, 1812, and his age was therefore 78 years, 5 months and 24 days. He was married to Ellen DeLong, June 19, 1843, in the then little town of Ft. Wayne. He had already prepared a home and they moved to it at once, and began housekeeping, on the farm where they have lived ever since. To them were born 12 children, 9 of whom, and his aged and honored wife, survive him.
They had been married 48 years and 10 months. Mr. surfus was always a careful business man, though always liberal. He early accumulated a competencey, and was owner of several fine farms in both counties, though his home was in Perry township in Allen county. He was always a prominent man in his neighborhood and was held in high esteem by all who knew him. Among the children now living, is Mrs. Wm. Murphy of this place. The family have many other relatives about here, Mrs. Fair, and Mrs. Perry Fitch being sisters to Mrs. Surfus.
The funeral was largely attended and was held at Cedar Chapel in Butler township, Thursday April 2, the interment being in the cemetery there. Rev. Zartman, of Ft. Wayne, conducted the services. Thus passed from earth another of those pioneers to whom northern Indiana owes so much. (Re: Auburn Courier - 9 April 1891)

Nathaniel Fitch, not Perry

This sounds like the information I need! I have a John (perhaps Jr.) and Elizabeth Surface, parents of Andrew Surface born about 1778 in Virginia. This Andrew married Elizabeth Harless and was in Dekalb Co., IN for the 1850 Federal Census.
I also have a Michael Surface who married Catherine Nosler in Montgomery Co., Va. in 1792.

"Pioneer Sketches" contains some reminiscences in regard to Butler Township, from which we extract:

"Abraham Fair (one of the eight first settlers who came in October, 1834) is our informant. 'Our plan,' says he, 'was to come out, build cabins, make a little beginning, and then return to our old homes in Montgomery County, Ohio, to winter, and bring on the family in the spring. We brought provisions enough with us to last until our return, excepting meat—calculating to kill deer enough to supply that. In this, however, we were mistaken. We found deer quite scarce in those woods that fall. One day, Andrew Surface found a hollow tree (on Black Creek, where Peter Simons' ashery now stands) filled with honey, into which a bear had gnawed a hole and helped himself to as much as he wanted. On cutting the tree we found what was left of Bruin's dinner, six gallons of honey. The first fair day after this, we found two bee trees, cut them, and took the honey. We eight had all the honey we wanted for twenty days (and had little to eat except bread and honey), and on returning to Montgomery County we had twenty-one gallons of strained honey left.'

"We will interrupt 'Uncle Abraham' in his narrative to remark that when it is remembered that it was in Butler Township that Wesley Park and Joseph Miller lay out in the woods on a rainy night with 'new milk fresh from the cow' for their entire bill of fare, surely it might be said that Butler was 'a land flowing with milk and honey.

"But let us hear Uncle Abraham's 'coon story'—wish I could tell it on paper as he did orally—with his expressive jovial countenance and an occasional interlude in the form of a hearty laugh—wish I could, but I can't. 'After finding the bee trees,' says he, 'Andrew Surface found a hollow tree with two "coons" in, and cutting them out, he brought them to our shanty. We took the hides off and hung the meat out in the frost over night, and in the morning, Charley Crouse, who was our cook, prepared them for our breakfast. Being rather meat hungry, we all ate heartily of them, except John Surface, who declared he would starve first—though he ate some of the gravy. After breakfast we all went at cutting and hewing logs and making clapboards for William Surface's cabin. John and I went to sawing a large oak for clapboards. John didn't pull the saw very strongly. "Ah," said I to him, "you didn't eat coon, or you could have sawed better."

"'Presently he thought the saw went too hard and that he must have the iron wedge from the shanty to drive in the kerf. My father, Peter Fair, was lying in the shanty, and John supposed he was asleep. So he went to the skillet where there was a quarter of a coon left from breakfast, and taking off the lid, he took up the meat; and after smelling it awhile, applied his teeth and stripped the bone in short meter. All this time my father lay pretending to be asleep, but struggling to keep from laughing. When John returned and took hold of the saw again, I remarked to him that he must have either been eating coon or smelling of it, he pulled so much stronger. When Crouse went in to cook dinner my father told the joke; and it was some time before John heard the last of the coon story.'

"'I was twenty-two years of age,' continued Uncle Abraham, 'when I moved into the township, twenty-four years ago. I then weighed 160 pounds, and my wife 140. Now (1859) I weigh 210, and my wife 200. We have had eleven children born in the township, and nine are still living. In the twenty-four years I have not lost as many hours by sickness. I am now six feet four and a half inches high, and there never has been cleared land enough in De Kalb County to throw me down on. I still live on the farm where I first settled, and have never moved but once—from one part of my farm to another.'"

Butler has a population by the last census (1880) of 778, or 32.4 to the square mile. In 1870 it had 1,209, but it was then fifty per cent. larger territorially. The rate of taxation for 1884 is $1.51; the poll tax, $1.25; number of acres of land assessed, 15,279.18; value of lands, $306,670; value of improvements, $50,395; value of lands and improvements, $357,065; value of lots, $482; value of improvements, $2,260; value of lots and improvements, $2,742; value of personal property, $70,840; total value of taxables, $430,647; number of polls, 143; total amount of taxes levied, $6,753.29. The valuation per capita is $521.79. The number of children of school age is 234.

Descendants of Charles Fair

Generation No. 1

1. CHARLES[1] FAIR[1] was born 1753[2], and died Abt. 26 March 1792 in Near Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland. He married MARY SLIDER[3] Abt. 1777 in Maryland. She was born 21 March 1756[4], and died 27 November 1815 in Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for CHARLES FAIR:
From a report from Jesse Emerson III to Betty McClanahan:
"Nothing is known about Charles Fair's place of birth or early life.
"There were several families with the name of "Fair" that were members of the Trinity Lutheran Church at Taneytown in Frederick County, Maryland. There are also families with the name of "Fare" and "Fahr" living in this area of Maryland and southern Pennsylvania. It is possible that either Charles or his wife (or both) were of German descent."

At about the age of 39, Charles made his will, leaving his estate to his wife, Mary for her support and the education and maintenance of his named children. Neither Charles nor his wife could write their names, as both signed by mark.

Charles Fair's Will

I do therefore hereby authorise and empower my said wife Mary to Convey unto the said Peter Slider his Heirs and Assigns for Ever the said Land so as aforesaid Sold by me to him, and Lastly I do Hereby Nominate, constitute and Appoint my said Wife, Mary and the said Peter Slider, Executors of this my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all Wills by me heretofore made ratifying and confirming this and none other to be my Last Will and Testament. In Witness whereof I have hereto set my Hand and Seal this Eighteenth day of February Seventeen hundred and Ninety two.

Frederick County, March 26, 1792

Then came Mary Fair and Peter Slider and Made Oath that the aforegoing Instrument of Writing is the true and Whole Will and Testament of Charles Fair late of Frederick County Deceased and made Oath on the Holy Evangels of Almighty God that they did on the Testator therein Named sign and Seal this Will; that they heard him publish, pronounce and declare the same to be his last Will and Testament, that at the time of his doing he was to the best of their Apprehensions of a Sound and disposing Mind, Memory and Understanding; that they respectively Subscribe their Names as Witnesses to this Will in the presence and the request of the Testator and that they did also see Mary Coones the other Subscribing Witness sign her name.

From a Family Treemaker Internet genealogy site by Kathy Welch Heidel, citing documents received from Charles Roy Fair (I do not have addresses for Kathy and Charles):

"Charles Fair purchased 59 acres from William Diggs and Ralphael Taney, part of the Resurvey of Brothers Agreement, November 23, 1773, for 45 Pounds paid in Pennsylvania Currency. (Land Record Book U, page 326)

On April 19, 1785 Charles purchased all the personal property of Isaac Simons for the sum of 15 Pounds paid in Gold and Silver. Witnesses to this purchase were William Cornell and Smith Cornell. (This property consisted of livestock, grain, farm implements and household furnishings.)

November 17, 1785 Charles purchased from Peter Slider 50 acres, part of the Resurvey of Brothers Agreement for 16 Pounds 4 Shillings.* (Land Record Book WR-6 page 185) (Note: Betty McClanahan sent a report by Jesse R. Emerson III. He reports that on November 14, 1785 Charles purchased 50 acres of land in a tract known as "Brothers' Agreement" from Jacob Schlyter (Slider.)* This was a part of the estate of Jeremiah Shlyter of Pennsylvania.) A Deed of Confirmation was recorded on June 17, 1788 on the land from William Diggs to correct the land description of the property obtained from Peter Slider. On 14 June 1788, Charles and Mary signed a Quit Claim Deed to correct the deed on the 50 acres of land bought from Jacob Slider. (This land was adjacent to the farm of Benjamin Cornell.)

"Charles made his mark on his will February 18, 1782 and it was filed for Probate on March 26, 1792. On April 17, 1797 the 50 acres sold by Peter Slider to Charles was deeded back to Peter Slider for the sum of 5 Shillings on an Instrument filed May 3, 1797. (Land Record WR-15; page 275) On February 8, 1809 Michael Fair his wife Sarah, Peter Fair his wife Barbara, Smith Cornell his wife Mary, John Fair and Charles Fair sold to Henry Rinedoller Jr. 60 acres of land-part of "The Resurvey of Brothers Agreement" for Five Hundred and Sixty Four Pounds.(Land Record Book WR 34; page 317) This was the same tract that Charles purchased in 1773."

*Perhaps Charles Fair bought both of these properties that were a part of the estate of Jeremiah Shlyter of Pennsylvania. Jacob Shlyter and Peter Slider were probably sons of Jeremiah. (And possibly brothers of Mary Slider, Peter's wife?)

Notes for MARY SLIDER:
Information taken from report by Jesse Emerson III which was sent to me by Betth McClanahan:

"Charles Fair was born about 1753 and Mary about 1756. Charles Fair and Mary Slider (Shlyter) were married in about 1780, probably in Frederick County, Maryland, the part that is now in Carroll County. On 12 March 1785 they purchased livestock, grain, implements and household furnishings fromm Isaac Simons of Frederick County. The price was 50 pounds in gold and silver. (Note: Kathy Heidel has it as 15 pounds of gold and silver.) Witnesses to this transaction were William Cornell and Smith Cornell. On 14 June 1788 Charles and Mary signed a quit claim to correct the deed on the 50 acres of land they bought from Jacob Shlyter on 14 November 1785 (part of a tract known as "Brothers Agreement.") This land was adjacent to the farm of Benjamin Cornell. (He was to become Mary's second husband.)

"Mary was left a widow with six children when her husband, Charles, died in 1792. He was about 39 years old, so Mary, too was a young woman about 37 years of age. Neither Charles nor Mary could write their names as they both made their marks on the Will. It was filed for probate on 26 March 1792 in Frederick County. The Will directed that the 50 acres of land be conveyed to Peter Slider fulfilling an agreement with him on 20 May 1786.

The report continues:

"Mary's maiden name may have been "Slider." Variations on the spelling are Shlyter, Schlyter. On 8 May 1797, Mary Cornell, as executrix for the estate of Charles Fair, and Benjamin Cornell, her husband conveyed to Peter Slider the 50 acres of land she and Charles had bought in 1785 from Jacob Slider. The wording of this transaction indicates that Mary may have been a 'Slider'.

"On 17 April 1797 Mary Cornell, as Executrix for the estate of Charles Fair, and Benjamin Cornell her husband, conveyed to Peter Slider the 50 acres of land she and Charles had bought in 1785 from Jacob Slider for the sum of 5 shillings on an Instrument filed 3 May 1797. (Land Record WR-15; page 275)"

Benjamin Cornell's first wife, Sarah ___ died 1 April 1792. Mary Fair's husband, Charles died 26 March 1792. Mary Fair and Benjamin Cornell were married about 1793.

Benjamin bequeathed to Mary "one third of his Frederick County plantation during her widowhood, plus one riding mare saddle and bridle, two cows all the hogs and sheep together with all the household goods." Mary renounced and quit all claim to these bequests and instead elected to take the legal share of the estate under her Dower rights. (20 December 1803.)

Jesse Emerson III reports that Benjamin's estate was not settled until 12 May 1817, "possibly when Mary died."

Mary was left with two small children from her marriage to Benjamin, nine year-old Margaret and seven year-old Jacob. In addition, there were still three underage children from her first marriage to Charles Fair, and there were at least two of Benjamin's sons, from his first marriage to Sarah, probably living at home. Mary was about 47 years old when she was widowed the second time. It appears that at least two of Benjamin's youngest sons, Nathan and John may have been taken and raised by Benjamin's sister, Elizabeth Wigdon (who later married a "Johnson") See my "notes" under Nathan Cornell. This is still speculation and needs much investigation.

Rita Warkentin of New Jersey reports that Mary (Slider-Fair) Cornell is buried in the Trinity Lutheran Cemetery in Taneytown, Carroll County, Maryland. Cemetery inscriptions show that Mary died 27 November 1815 at the age of 59 years, 8 months, 6 days.
(Calculated birth date: 21 March 1756)

Betty McClanahan reports a birth date of 1757 and death date 12 May 1815. I am going to use the birth and death dates from the tombstone.

Marriage Notes for CHARLES FAIR and MARY SLIDER:
Kathy Welch Heidel and Charles Roy Fair report that Charles and Mary were married in 1777 in Frederick County, Maryland.

Betty McClanahan has 1780. I don't know if either has an official marriage record or Bible record for this event.

Since Kathy reports that the first child, Michael, was born in 1778, I am using the 1777 marriage date.

Kathy and Charles have another child listed for Charles and Mary (Slider) Fair: Jacob Fair, born 1781 in Frederick County, Maryland; died 10 February 1854 in Miami County, Ohio. Jacob is not named in his father's Will, nor is he named among the heirs who signed the Quit Claim Deed in the Estate settlement 8 February 1809. I did not include Jacob as a child in this report.

Children of CHARLES FAIR and MARY SLIDER are:

i. MICHAEL^2 FAIR^5, b. 1778, Frederick County, Maryland^6; d. 25 September 1847, Ohio^7; m. (1) SARAH CROUSE^8, 27 September 1803, Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland; d. Bef. September 1822, <Frederick County, Maryland>; m. (2) ELIZABETH KUHN, 30 September 1822, Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for MICHAEL FAIR:
Betty McClanahan has a birth date of 1781 for Michael Fair.

Kathy Welch Heidel and Charles Roy Fair report that in a deed dated 8 February 1809, Michael Fair and his wife Sarah, along with the other heirs of Charles and Mary Fair sold to Henry Rinedoller Jr. 60 acres of land--part of "The Resurvey of Brothers Agreement" for Five Hundred and Sixty Four Pounds. (Land Record BokWR 34; page 317)

"On April 29, 1826 Michael Fair and wife Sarah sold to Henry Rinedollar lot #18 in Taneytown for

$300
"Michael served in the War of 1812 with Capt. Knox's Co. of the Maryland Militia. Bounty Land Warrant #55689-160-55"

I speculate that Michael's first wife, Sarah Crouse, was probably the sister of Barbara Crouse, who married Michael's brother, Peter in 1801 in Frederick County.

Beth Cornell-Gerig sent a copy of her notes of Marriage Licenses in Frederick County, Maryland 1811-1840, Page 46, that includes the following report:
September 30, 1822--Fair, Michael to Kuhn, Elizabeth

2. ii. PETER FAIR, b. 15 March 1780, Frederick County, Maryland; d. 15 November 1853, DeKalb County, Indiana.
3. iii. ANNA MARY FAIR, b. 01 January 1783, Near Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland; d. 01 July 1860, Richardson County, Nebraska.
iv. JOHN FAIR[9], b. 1785, Frederick County, Maryland[10,11]; d. 1829, Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for JOHN FAIR:
Betty McClanahan has a birth date of 1784 for John Fair.
John Fair was among the heirs of Charles Fair that sold 60 acres of land in Frederick County to Henry Rinedoller Jr --part of "The Resurvey of Brothers Agrrement"--on 8 February 1809. The land was sold for Five Hundred and Sixty Four Pounds. (Land Record Book WR 34; page 317)

v. JUNIOR CHARLES FAIR[12], b. 1788, Frederick County, Maryland[13,14]; d. 1830.

Notes for JUNIOR CHARLES FAIR:
Betty McClanahan has a birth date of 1787 for Charles Fair.
Charles Fair was among the heirs of his father, Charles Fair, who sold to Henry Rinedoller Jr. 60 acres of land--part of "The Resurvey of Brothers Agreement"--for Five Hundred and Sixty Four Pounds. (Land Record Book WR 34; page 317)

vi. ELIZABETH FAIR[15], b. 02 August 1789, Frederick County, Maryland[16]; d. Bef. February 1809, <Frederick County, Maryland>; m. ABRAM CROUSE, Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for ELIZABETH FAIR:
Elizabeth Fair is named in her father's will that was made February 18, 1802 in Frederick County, Maryland (Will Docket G.M. 2; Folio 428)
Elizabeth is not named as a signer of a Quit Claim Deed for the sale of the real estate that was left to the children by Charles Fair. The Deed was dated February 8, 1809.
It is presumed that Elizabeth was deceased before February 1809.

Note: Kathy Welch Heidel and Charles Roy Fair have a birth date of 1783 for Elizabeth.

Generation No. 2

2. PETER^2 FAIR (CHARLES^1)[17] was born 15 March 1780 in Frederick County, Maryland[18,19], and died 15 November 1853 in DeKalb County, Indiana. He married (1) BARBARA CROUSE[20] 1801 in Frederick County, Maryland. She died Bef. 1830 in <Miami County, Ohio>. He married (2) SARAH SURFUS[21] 27 June 1830 in Miami County, Ohio, daughter of ANDREW SURFUS and ELIZABETH HARLESS. She was born Abt. 1806 in Virginia[22].

Notes for PETER FAIR:
Betty McClanahan has a birth date of 1782 for Peter Fair.
Peter is named in the Will of his father, Charles, in 1792. Peter and his wife, Barbara (Crouse) signed a Quit Claim Deed in Frederick County, Maryland with the other heirs in the settlement of his father's real-estate 8 February 1809. (Land Record Book WR 34; page 317)
(I speculate that Peter's wife, Barbara, was probably the sister of Sarah Crouse, who married Peter's brother, Michael Fair in Frederick County 23 September 1803.)

Peter was a witness to Benjamin Cornell's will which was made 11 August 1803. Benjamin was Peter's step-father.

Roy Charles Fair reports that Peter was listed in the 1810 Census in Frederick County, Maryland with a wife and three children. He reportedly served in the War of 1812. I don't know if he had land warrants for that service or not. This would take research into his Military Records.

From "DeKalb County Township Histories," in "Atlas of DeKalb County, 1880"

"The pioneers of Butler Township were Peter Fair and his sons Charles and Abraham, all of whom are dead; Charles Crouse, George Delong, Andrew Surfus/Surface and his sons Jacob and John. They cut their road from Allen County, beyond Huntertown--five miles to the place where they settled. The date of their settlement is1835 although they had come in with a wagon and two span of horses the fall previously (1 October 1834) and built their cabins. In the Spring of 1836, the population was increased by the arrival of William Surface, (another) son of Andrew and his wife Sophia, (who was) a daughter of Peter Fair. Henry Fair another son of Peter Fair, arrived with his family in 1839."

"Peter Fair served as a Chairman on the Board of County Commissioners."

Note: Peter and two of his siblings, Michael and Elizabeth were married into the Crouse family. It appears that they married Crouse siblings. Peter married Sarah Surfus in Miami County, Ohio after the death of his wife Barbara.

According to the 1850 Census of DeKalb County, Indiana, Peter and Sarah's first three children were born in Ohio, the youngest being John who was born in about 1834. He would have been an infant when Peter and his sons, Abraham and Charles made their first journey to Indiana . According to reports in DeKalb County History books, it seems that they made this trip to scout for and claim land in the fall of 1834. They returned home to Montgomery County, Ohio for the fall and winter. Abraham was married that winter, and in the spring of 1835, Peter and his family were probably accompanied by Abraham and his new bride as they all made their permanent move to Indiana. Peter and Sarah were in Indiana in 1838 when their next child, Jacob was born. (again from the Census record).

Peter's mother, Mary Slider-Fair married Benjamin Cornell after his father, Charles Fair, died. It seems that Peter was the first of these two families to make the challenging trip to explore the new territory opening in Indiana. He probably passed word of the fine lands in Ohio and Indiana to his brothers and step-brothers in Maryland. He must have spoken highly of the lands that he and Abraham had claimed, and the availability of plenty of cheap land. When Benjamin Cornell and his brother, John made their first trip to Ohio and Indiana in 1838, it was probably because of the urging of their step-brother, Peter Fair.

Notes for SARAH SURFUS:
Sarah reportedly died of Cholera.

Children of PETER FAIR and BARBARA CROUSE are:

i. CHARLES^3 FAIR[23].
ii. SOPHIA FAIR, m. WILLIAM SURFUS[24].
iii. HENRY FAIR[25].

Notes for HENRY FAIR:

Henry did not accompany his father, Peter and his brother, Abraham on their initial trips of exploration and settlement in Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana in 1834 and 1835.

However, in the "History of DeKalb County--1914" on page 161, it is reported that Henry Fair came to Butler Township in 1839.

iv. ABRAHAM FAIR[26], b. Abt. 1815, Frederick County, Maryland[27]; m. CHRISTIANA DELONG[28,29], 1835, Montgomery County, Ohio; b. Ohio.

Notes for ABRAHAM FAIR:
From the "DeKalb County, Indiana Atlas, 1880:"

moving to Moultrie County by 25 May 1853 (near Decatur), where he and his wife, Ann made a deed to sell their lot in Carroll County, Maryland to the German Reformed Church of Cavetown. His family was thus near to his brother, James who had arrived in Illinois after 1850 and settled in Macon County, which is adjacent to Moultrie. Beth hasn't been able to find Anna Mary in the 1850 Census.

I don't believe that Mary and Charles started their journey from Maryland with the intent of going to Nebraska. I think they got to Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, renewed acquaintances with family members that were there and established residences first. Mary had at least one brother, Peter Fair and his family, in DeKalb County, Indiana. In addition, four of her Cornell sons were settled, or intending to settle, in DeKalb County Indiana and in Williams County, Ohio.

I think the brothers, Charles and John, talked to each other and worked up enthusiam for once again heading to the wide open country, and taking advantage of cheap or free land. John probably left Indiana in 1854. He was living in Shelby County, near Charles, when he purchased land 15 June 1854. His son, George Washington, was born in Illinois 15 May 1856. Charles had a young son, Charles Edward, who was born in 1855 in Illinois. These two families, along with Mary left Illinois about 3 months after George was born. John's family consisted of nine children, including the infant, George. Charles' family included three children, the youngest about one year old. I can see this group with their wagons, furniture and livestock making their way overland from Illinois, with Mary perched somewhere to help with the children. It is said that she smoked a corncob pipe. Maybe she was sitting in a rocker stacked on top of the furniture and supplies enjoying her ride in the wagon. They arrived in Richardson County, Nebraska in September 1856.

They went by wagon. They had to cross the Mississippi and the Missouri and several smaller waterways. Charles and his mother, Mary, received their Patent for land in Richardson County, Nebraska on 5 September 1860. (Since Mary died 1 July 1860, I don't know how they managed to get her patent approved. Maybe there was a way that Charles could assume the Homestead Warrant) I don't have a date for John's homestead Patent, but would expect to be around the same date.

Betty sent a copy of a letter from the County Clerk of Richardson County, Nebraska 13 July 1979:

"...In answer to your letter of inquiry...Mr. Stacy Brown of 1704 Nemaha Ave., Falls City, Nebraska advised me that he knew something about the Cornell land that was located in Section 3, Township 2, Range 15...I checked this property and found the original patent on this land issued to Charles S. Cornell, Mary A. Cornell and Charles F. Cornell. The patent was issued on 5 September 1860.

"Then in a later entry I found a Decree Determining Heirship and Right of Descent and Barring Claims dated and filed on January 27, 1947 for Charles S. Cornell who passed away on February 2, 1884. The heirs named were Anna H. (widow), Senora C. Cornell, Mary A. Cornell, Emma J. Cornell, Nettie M. Cornell and Idear A. (now Idear A. Tucker.)"

(Note: I don't know who the "Charles F. Cornell" referenced in this letter was.)

Mary Cornell is in the 1860 Census of Salem Township, Richardson County, Nebraska on page 46. She reported that she was 77 years old and was born in Maryland. She was reported to be living in the residence next to her son, Charles. She must have died shortly after the Census was taken.

Estella Provines, in a letter dated 15 October 1962, reports that Anna Mary was born 1 January 1783 and died 1 July 1860. She cites records in the Bible that was owned by her grandfather, Samuel Cornell.

(Mary died before the final land patent was issued. I wonder how that was worked out.)

Mary is buried in The Liberty-Cornell Cemetery in Verdon, Liberty Township, Richardson County, Nebraska. It is on the land that was homesteaded by her son, John C. Cornell.

From "US Government Land Laws in Nebraska 1854-1904," published on the website of the Nebraska State Historical Society Library:

" Nebraska Territory was opened to settlers in 1854. Between 1854 and 1863, the most common type of land entry in Nebraska was the Pre-emption claim under the Act of 1841. This law and its later amendments allowed settlers to file a pre-emption on up to 160 acres of surveyed or unsurveyed land and to receive title after paying a minimum price per acre established by the Government. As long as the settler complied with the terms of the act, his claim "pre-empted" subsequent claims against the tract. The Pre-emption Act remained in effect until repealed in 1891."

"To file a pre-emption, Claimants had to be twenty-one years of age, head of a family and a U.S. citizen. The first step in filing was to complete a declaratory statement at the land office. This is shown as "D.S." in the tract books. It was merely a sworn statement signed by the settler which indicated that he or she had settled on a given tract of land and was declaring intention to claim said tract under the pre-emption law. This statement required the name of the claimant, residence, age, date of actual settlement, and a description of the tract."

"When pre-empting a tract of land surveyed by not previously offered at public auction, ('unoffered lands') an individual had three months after actual settlement in which to file his declaratory statement. On unsurveyed lands, the declaratory statement was required to be filed three months after the land office had received an approved plat (survey) of the township in which the claim was located. In such cases, it was possible for the settler to have 'squatted' on a tract for some time prior to actually filing a declarator statement. Regardless of the time limit, a filing fee was required at the time the declaratory statement was made.

"Pre-emption Proof--For pre-emptions, as well other entries under the federal land laws, the settler was required to give proof that he or she had complied with the legal provisions of the law before receiving title to the land from the government. Hence the term 'proving up.' Pre-emptions on 'offered' lands require proof of final payment withing one year after the date of settlement indicated in the declaratory statement. Pre-emption proofs on 'unoffered' or unsurveyed lands were require within thirty months after the expiration of the three month period allowed for the filing of the declaratory statements. Other requirements for the proof were: secure the testimony of two witnesses on a similar form, and pay for the land with cash, military bounty warrants or agricultural college scrip, at the government price, usually $1.25 an acre. Notice of intent to 'prove up' had to be published each week for not less than thirty days in a legal newspaper near the land. This was to allow anyone who had an adverse claim to the specified land to file a contest."

I don't know if the lands claimed by John, Charles and Mary had been surveyed or unsurveyed before they settled on them, but they would have been under the Pre-emption Act, rather than the Homestead Act, which wasn't passed until 1862.

Notes for SMITH CORNELL:

Some family reports say that Smith was born in North Carolina in 1776, and this was his place of birth asreported by his son, Nathan Henry in the 1880 Census of Philadelphia, PA. There is another report that Smith was born in Frederick County, Maryland. This report is from the "Williams County, Ohio History, Volume II," a biographical sketch about Chester Alton Cornell, a descendant of Smith's son, Benjamin. Either report could be correct. Smith's father, Benjamin Cornell did own property in both Maryland and in North Carolina at the time he made his will August 11, 1803 in Frederick County, Maryland.

Smith was bequeathed the Maryland "plantation" in his father's Will, and he was appointed Executor. His father left a widow, Smith's step-mother, Mary Slyder-Fair Cornell and her two children: Margaret, age nine and Jacob, age seven. Smith and Anna Mary most likely assumed responsibility for these survivors. (Mary Cornell was Anna Mary's mother, by her first marriage.) This is only speculation.

Smith was a witness to his Uncle Jacob Cornell's will on 4 January 1805 in Frederick County. He appeared in Court to Prove the will of 4 December 1805.

Smith Cornell of Frederick County, Maryland and his wife "Mary" executed a deed to James Cornell of Frederick County on 7 June 1836. James bought 40 acres of a tract called "Epping's Forest" for $400. (Frederick Co Deeds; Book HS #3;pp 200-202) I do not know who this James is. Smith had a brother named James who was a resident of North Carolina when their father died. I believe that this James also had a son named James, who would have been Smith's nephew. It is possible that this is the connection. More investigation is needed.

According to family history, Smith and Mary were abolitionists, and helped slaves escaping from the South.

From a copy of a letter from "Estella to sister, Bertha" (Great grand daughters of Smith's son, Samuel Cornell):

"Smith Cornell was a Captain of the 47th Regiment, Frederick County Maryland Militia during the British invasion of Maryland, 1812-1815."

(I sent to the Maryland Archives, and received a copy of his enlistment record. He joined 22 May 1814)

A letter from Estella to cousin, Ralph Marshall dated 15 October 1962 reports that Smith was born 29 December 1776 and died 10 March 1846. She cites a Bible that had belonged to her grandfather, Samuel Cornell for the information.

From a letter dated 25 January 1966 by Odyne Cornell:

"Grandfather Cornell's father was named Smith Cornell and he was a Captain in the War of 1812. He was a wealthy man and owned land in Maryland and some of the adjoining States. But he made the mistake of borrowing on the land and loaning on second mortgages, and when the depression that usually follows a war came, he lost these loans and most of his savings.

"He was killed accidently by a horse..." (She reports that this happened shortly after the War, but Smith was still living at the time of the 1840 Census. He may have been killed by a horse, but it was much later than Odyne's report.)

Dean and Marlene Cornell visited Maryland and the location of the old Cornell homestead. Dean said that if you just "go down the road about 1/2 mile and turn the corner, you are at the farm of Francis Scott Key's family. They lived about a mile apart." The (Smith) Cornell land bordered on the Taneytown to Emmitsville Road. A Cornell Cemetery is at Harney.

Smith Cornell was a subscriber to the salary of the Pastor of the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church at Harney, Maryland in 1817. The 1840 Maryland Census shows that one member of the Smith Cornell household was engaged in business or manufacturing. The 1830 Census indicates he was a farmer.

He was a well educated man--a professor, whose specialty was mathematics. In later biographical reports about his children, it seems that he taught them himself--one of the first official home-school families that I have found in our history.

The family seems to have become very involved in the German Lutheran community--perhaps because of the influence of Mary Slider-Fair, Smith's stepmother, and mother of his wife, Anna Mary. (Slider is also spelled Schlyter; Fair can be spelled Fehr--both of German origin.) Samuel and Nathan attended Gettysburg Lutheran College, and Nathan, became a Lutheran Minister. Smith's sons, John, Charles and Samuel became teachers. At least three sons, Charles, William and Samuel found their wives from within the German community. (The surnames of three of the wives are unknown.)

The seven sons of Smith and Mary lived on the family farm near Taneytown, Maryland during their youth. By 1850, they had all settled in lands to the "West," except for Nathan who continued to practice his ministry in New York and Pennsylvania.

1838 was quite a significant year among the sons of Smith Cornell. William bought land just to the north in Adams County, Pennsylvania. Benjamin and John, two of the oldest, traveled together to western Ohio and eastern Indiana in the Fall of 1838. They were probably tempted by reports of fertile, undeveloped lands from their uncle, Peter Fair who had arrived in DeKalb County, Indiana when it was still an uncleared primeval forest in 1835. (Peter was also Smith Cornell's brother-in-law) Benjamin settled in Williams County, Ohio and John in DeKalb County, Indiana. Nineteen year old Samuel visited DeKalb County, Indiana with his brothers in late 1838. According to Benjamin, "he was not very well pleased with the country." He returned to Maryland in 1840 and taught school. Samuel seems to have traveled back and forth between Indiana and Maryland several times, while Benjamin seems to have settled permanently on his Ohio farm. John must have made a land claim in DeKalb County in 1838, but he must not have established a home right away. He was teaching school in Williams County, Ohio in 1839, and probably lived in a cabin near his brother, Benjamin. John and Lavina had a son, William, who was born in Indiana in 1839, according to his tombstone.

Smith and Anna Mary and their four remaining sons remained in the area near Taney Town until after Smith's death in 1846. Charles and his mother left Maryland in about 1849. (There must be some land records available that would give a better time line) They traveled to Ohio and Indiana, visiting family members who had gone before. Charles eventually went on to Illinois. Samuel might have accompanied them on this journey (possibly as a guide), but he was back in Maryland by the spring of 1850, when he was married to Mary Hawver.

William and Samuel moved to Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana in the summer of 1850, where they joined their brother, John. (Anna Mary may have come to Indiana with William and Samuel, rather than Charles. There are reports of both scenarios. She has not been found in the 1850 census at either location.) De Kalb County borders Williams County, Ohio, which was to the east. The three brothers lived just across the state line from Benjamin. James seems to be the last to leave Maryland and he went to Illinois--probably leaving just after the 1850 Maryland Census was taken. He probably followed the same route the others took, spending time with the family along the way. (Nathan was already practicing as a Lutheran minister in New York in 1850.) James and his family are found in Macon County, Illinois in 1870. Charles was already in Illinois--first in Madison County (1850) and then Moultrie County (1853). Moultrie is adjacent to Macon County, where James settled. Charles and James probably lived close to each other during these years.

Mary probably stopped in Ohio and Indiana along the way to spend some weeks and months with her other sons and her brother, Peter Fair, who lived along the route before finally joining Charles and John and their families as they went on to Nebraska. They all established homesteads in Richardson County--the far southeast corner of the State--ca 1856.

I sent a letter to the Register of Wills in Carroll County, Maryland to see if I could obtain a copy of a will or estate settlement for Smith. No records were found there. It may require "on site" research or the investigation of real estate transfers to document heirs and the distribution of the estate.

Smith had a brother, James, who lived on the "plantation" in North Carolina that was left to him by their father, Benjamin. According to the 1810 Census, James Cornell of Rowan County, North Carolina had one slave. In 1830, he had nine. I imagine there was quite a philosophical rift in the family, with some siding with the abolitionists and some with slavery. I obtained a copy of the original census for Rowan County. James Cornal is on page 433. The name listed appears to say "Cornal, JP & Son." This leads me to believe that there was a James Cornell Jr. and they were living together in 1830.

Marriage Notes for ANNA FAIR and SMITH CORNELL:
Betty McClanahan's family report states that Smith Cornell and Anna Mary Fair were stepbrother and sister. Smith was 16 years old when his mother, Sarah, died. Meanwhile, on a neighboring farm, Charles Fair, Mary's husband had died. The widow, Mary Fair, married the widower, Benjamin Cornell. Benjamin brought nine children to the marriage, and Mary brought six. Among the children were found Smith Cornell and Anna Mary Fair. Anna Mary was about 10 years old when she and Smith became members of the same household.

Children of ANNA FAIR and SMITH CORNELL are:

i. BENJAMIN^3 CORNELL[7], b. 21 March 1804, Frederick County, Maryland[8]; d. 02 July 1864, St. Joseph Township, Williams County, Ohio; m. ELIZABETH BOWERSOX[9], Abt. 1833, <Pennsylvania or Maryland>; b. 30 July 1804, Maryland[10]; d. 29 December 1881, St. Joseph Township, Williams County, Ohio.

Notes for BENJAMIN CORNELL:
Benjamin and Elizabeth (Bowersox) Cornell and their two small children made the journey from Stark County, Ohio to Williams County, Ohio in the fall of 1838. Another child was born soon after their arrival--a son named Ferdinand Smith Cornell. They made the trip in wagons and traveled through the Black Swamp. They were accompanied by her brother, John W. Bowersox and (apparently) Benjamin's brother, John Cornell. The families had moved from Carroll County, Maryland in 1839. (Carroll County was formed from Frederick County, Maryland in 1838.)

This group of families all settled near the village of Denmark (now Eton) in St. Joseph's Township. The lands are southwest of the present town of Edgerton and are in the southwest Township of Williams County. It was organized 2 December 1832 and was the first Township organized in the County. Benjamin's farm was on the Bellefontaine Road, near the Ohio-Indiana State Line. Occasionally, they kept travelers overnight.

Apparently Benjamin's brother, John built a cabin near his and stayed there for most of 1839. Perhaps John was teaching at the school in Denmark (for two terms) and going across the border to Indiana to clear land and build a cabin for his family in DeKalb County.

In Margaret Bostatler-Cornell's report, she says that the 1850 Census lists their first child, Mary Elizabeth born in Pennsylvania in 1834. They must have traveled through or stayed in Stark County, Ohio for only a few years between 1834-1838. I have not seen any reports about whether his brother, John also spent time in Stark County.

From "DeKalb County History, 1837-1937," Pages 154-155, Letter written by Benjamin Cornell:
"DE KALB COUNTY IS SETTLING UP WITH STARK COUNTY MEN"

M. William Skelton Postage 18 1/2
North Industry
Stark County, Ohio

"May 13, (1839), St. Joseph Post-Office, Williams County, Ohio

"Dear Friends--After shameful neglect I have at last taken pen in hand to inform you of our health and progress through life since we left you. Our health, the first thing to be inquired after, has been good ever since we left you. As to our progress I shall give you a short account from the time we started on to the present.

"The first day we got to the first Tavern west of Massilon without anything particularly happening. The second day Martha upset the wagon with herself and John's oldest boy in it. They were both very much frightened and some little hurt, but soon got over it. Nothing more particularly took place until we came to the Black Swamp between Findlay and Defiance. The distance across the swamp from one house to another is 18 miles. Just about the middle of it one of David's wagon wheels broke down which caused us to lodge there for the night, nine miles from any house. The next day John and myself went back back for Dave and by one o'clock at night we all got out. The 15th day after we started we arrived safely at Denmark (Note: Denmark is now Edon, Ohio), 2 2/3 miles from our land. We rented a house there and went out to look at our land but could not (with any exactness) find it. The original Survey being so bad that few lines can be found in this section of county. We then employed a surveyor who started at a known corner two miles East of our land and run it out, as he said, pretty correctly. He was then employed by another person to survey a piece of land cornering on my south line. He started one mile south of me at a known corner and run upwards of 20 rods over my land. I then had a resurvey running from the Township line at the North-East corner of my section to the North West corner of section 16, which fixt our lines somewhat more correctly though not with much exactness yet.

"By this time we had spent two weeks and nothing done towards building yet. We then went to work at getting out timber for Houses, and the second day I cut my foot badly which layed me up for another two weeks. We got our houses up about the first of November. John's moved into theirs on the 9th and we intended to move in ours on the 10th but the birth of a young son which took place on the 8th prevented us. We got into our house on the 18th. We have a comfortable Cabin House 24 feet by 17, three 12-light windows in it and a partition run through it, a fireplace in one room and a stove in the other. I have eight acres of land cleared, one sowed to wheat, one for potatoes, garden & beans, etc., two acres planted in corn and four more ready for buckwheat and turnips. Bowersox has 16 acres cleared, 5 of which is sowed in wheat and oats, together with timothy and clover, all of which looks exceedingly well. They had a daughter born on the 10th of March. Our son is a remarkably strong, healthy child, we call him Ferdinand Smith.

"I found my land much better than I expected. It lays high and rolling; heavily timbered with all kinds of timber that you have in Stark county, except chestnut. Some parts of it is nearly all oak, others principally beech and sugar. There are all kinds of oak, walnut, hickory, poplar, ash, lyn beech, cherry, sugar. The undergrowth is dogwood, ironweed, sassafras, hickory, prickly ash and spicewood. The soil is deep and sandy. The mode of farming here, particularly in the beech land is to harrow the ground well, plant your corn, tend it with hoes, cut it off in the fall, harrow it well again and sow it to wheat and grass seed, let it lay two years and then plow it up when the roots have become rotten, and the ground plows up as mellow as an ash heap. I saw wheat sowed last fall, after we came out, in this way, and it looked as well as any I had ever seen in Stark County.

"The State road leading from Defiance to Bellefontaine, Indiana, passes through my land. I have built on the road. See persons passing by almost every day, so that we feel noways lonesome, although it is 1 1/2 miles to our nearest neighbors except Bowersoxes.

"The prices of produce is wheat, $1.25; corn 62 2/3c; potatoes, 50c; flour, $7.00 per barrel; pork, $8.00 per hundred; bacon 10 to 12 2/3c per pound; beef 5 and 6c per pound. Me and John Bowersox bought 100 bushels of corn last fall for $40.00 and a barrel of flour for $3.00. There is a surplus of grain now in the counry. The river St. Joseph is one of the best Mill streams in the state. We have three mills within 5 1/3 miles of us, two on the river and one on Fish Creek. Land can be bought here from the speculators for $2.50 per acre. Tell John I have been looking for his land several times but can not tell him much about it. The reason, there is a large tamrack swamp on the state line which hinders me from following the line. I could not find the township corner until last week. This much I can tell him, he has some as pretty land as he could wish, covered with oak and sugar trees. He also has some of the Tamrack Swamp, but how much I cannot tell. When I get more time I shall take a better view of it and write the particulars to him. When we went out to enter the land we was not within one-half mile of the township line. I have been over Warner's land often. He has some good land and some swamp. David Smith has a beautiful quarter of land. Any persons wishing to settle in the woods will do well to come here. DeKalb County joining us on the west is settling up fast with Stark County men. There has not been more than twenty familes moved there to my knowledge since I came here.

"We made 150 pounds of sugar and 8 gallons of molasses this spring. I shall now draw to a close by requesting you to write soon.

" Remember us to all our old neighbors, particularly Karly's and Richard's

"May the Lord bless us all. I add no more but remain your well wished until death.

"Benjamin and Eliza Cornell to William and Elizabeth Skelton and family.

(P.S.) "May 19--Samuel Houlton, an old acquaintance of John's was buried this day, the 15th, he was a harty man. His complaint was inflamation of the brain. He got his mill up last fall. He has got two run of stone and some of the mill irons and intended to have the mill started by the time that harvest was over. The mill will now have to be sold. If any of your neighbors want such property I think they might get it in reasonable terms.

"There has been no death or sickness in the county since last fall, except Houltons.--Last fall the ague was a common complaint, particularly on the river.

"My brother that we expected, came here the day after we did. He is not very well pleased with the country. He taught school and kept some groceries for sale in Denmark last winter. This spring he moved to my house, put up a cabin and is working at his trade.

"Direct your letter to St. Joseph's post office, Williams County, Ohio.

Comments by John Martin Smith:

"The original copy of this letter is owned by Alfred and Clarence Cornell of near Edgerton, Ohio. Their ancestor, Benjamin Cornell settled on the land they now own, situated as Sections 5 and 8, St. Joseph Township, Williams County, Ohio, just a mile east of the Indiana line on the Bellafontaine Road which is County Road 4A in DeKalb County, Indiana. The village of Denmark is now Edon, Ohio. The year is not set forth in the original letter, but Samuel Houlton is known to have died May 17, 1839. Benjamin's son, Ferdinand Smith, was born November 1838 according to the 1900 Census of Ohio, so 1839 is the correct date for the letter.

"The letter was written by Benjamin Cornell to William and Elizabeth Skelton and family. Mr. or Mrs. Skelton were related to the Cornells and lived in Stark County, Ohio at the time the letter was written.

"The brother referred to was probably Samuel Cornell who apparently returned to Carroll County, Maryland after the letter was written. In 1848 he came to DeKalb County, Indiana and settled in Jackson Township. Another brother, William Cornell, settled in Butler Township, DeKalb County, in 1850."

(Note: Samuel returned to Indiana in 1848 for only a short time. He purchased some land and then returned to Maryland. He didn't return to Indiana to stay until after his marriage in 1850.)

According to the Maple Grove Cemetery records (Williams County, Ohio), Benjamin died 2 July 1864, age 60 years, 3 months, 11 days. This would give 21 March 1804 as his date of birth.

Notes for ELIZABETH BOWERSOX:
Elizabeth is found living in St. Joseph Township, Williams County Ohio in the 1880 census. She was 76 years old.

According to her tombstone at Maple Grove Cemetery, Elizabeth died 29 December 1881, age 77 years, 4 months, 29 days.

ii. JAMES CORNELL, b. Bet. 1806 - 1810, Frederick County, Maryland[11]; d. <Illinois>; m. MARY[12], Bet. 1840 - 1841, <Carroll County, Maryland>; b. Abt. 1824, Pennsylvania; d. <Illinois>.

Notes for JAMES CORNELL:
James is the most "mysterious" of the sons of Smith Cornell. There is little information about him, and there has apparently been no contact by Cornell researchers with any of his descendants.

According to Census records, James was born about 1810. Beth sent census reports from 1850 in Carroll County, Maryland and 1870 in Macon County, Illinois. They put James' birth date as between 1806-1810. He was engaged in farming in 1850, and was working as a potter in 1870. The family would have moved to Illinois by 1854, since their daughter, Maggie, who was 16 years old in 1870, was reportedly born in Illinois. Beth and I couldn't find him in the 1860 Illinois Census. His mother, Anna Mary had died 1 July 1860 in Richardson County, Nebraska. Maybe James was in Nebraska during the last days of her life and for a time after her death and missed being counted in either location.

Macon County is adjacent to Shelby County. James' brother, Charles, was living in Shelby County when he bought land 3 August 1852. His brother, John, was living in Shelby county when he bought land 15 June 1854. (I can't tell which county the properties were actually in. The record just gives a property description.) It seems that these three brothers lived fairly close to one another until Charles and John left for Nebraska in the summer of 1856. I wonder why James didn't go with them--or did he go, but return to Illinois after discovering the hardships of life on the Prairie Frontier? (my speculation)

I could not find James in the 1880 Census of Macon County, Illinois. I went through the county line by line and did not see his name. Perhaps he died between 1870 and 1880(?) I did find his children, Ramsay, Ada and Jennie (Virginia). None of them were married. Jennie was living with the family of John and Laura Blue. She was a servant, and described as John's sister-in-law. Does that mean that Laura Blue's maiden name was Cornell? She is not found with the family in any Census, and her age of 36 in 1880 means she should have been listed as a six year-old with James and Mary in 1850 in Maryland. I don't know how to investigate this mystery.

Macon County includes "Decatur," Illinois. It borders Moultrie County, where Charles was living in 1853.

James must have been the last of the brothers to leave the Pennsylvania/Maryland area, since he was still in Maryland at the time of the 1850 Census. Charles was already counted in Madison County, Illinois (near St. Louis) at that time. William and Samuel arrived in DeKalb County, Indiana in June/July 1850, (I don't know where they were when the 1850 Census was done--perhaps they were traveling and were somewhere between Maryland and Indiana at the time.) Benjamin had been established in Williams County, Ohio since 1839.

James' children, Adelaia, Virginia, and Ramsy, who were listed in the 1850 Census of Carroll County, Maryland were all reportedly born in Pennsylvania, but Adaline in 1870 reports her birth in Maryland. "Laura Blue" reported that she was born in Maryland. James Cornell's parents lived in or near Taneytown, which was about 6 miles south of the Pennsylvania line. The children could have been born in either state.

James could have lived in Pennsylvania in the early years after his marriage, and still been fairly close to his family. We know that his brother, William, lived in Adams County, Pennsylvania in 1838--just across the state line from Frederick County, Maryland. Perhaps he and James were near to each other. Their brother, Nathan was enrolled in Gettysburg College in Adams County at about that time, and Samuel was also reported to have spent "several terms" at the same college. It looks like these four brothers may have all relocated to Adams County, Pennsylvania at about the same time that Benjamin and John were moving to Ohio and Indiana. Brother, Charles, is unaccounted for in this period around 1838.

James may have moved back to Taneytown after his father died in 1846. It's not possible to make a very good guess, since the childrens' birthplaces reported in the censuses are not consistent.

There was a James Cornell of Frederick County, Maryland who bought 40 acres from Smith Cornell of the same place for $400 on 7 June 1836. (Frederick Co Deeds; Book HS#3; pp 200-202) Was this James Cornell Jr--Smith's nephew and grandson of Benjamin Cornell and Sarah? --or was he James, the son of Smith Cornell (2)? Is this where James and Mary were living at the time of the 1850 census?

Frederick County deed records should show when James sold this property, and might clear up the mystery of James' identity and when he left the state.

iii. JOHN CORNELL, b. 03 August 1808, Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland[13]; d. 07 January 1883, Salem Township, Richardson County, Nebraska[14]; m. LAVINA WILHIDE[15], 1837, Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland; b. 23 November 1811, Creagerstown, Frederick County, Maryland[16,17]; d. 13 November 1896, Liberty Township, Richardson County, Nebraska.

Notes for JOHN CORNELL:

There are different reports about John's middle initial.

The Liberty-Cornell Cemetery (published in "Richardson County Cemeteries" record says:

"John C. Cornell, (Woodman of the World Stone) born 3 August 1808; died 7 January 1883; age 74y. 5m. 4d."

Other researchers have reported his name as "John A. Cornell."

Eileen Francis went to the cemetery August 2001. She sent a photograph of the stone, and it definitely does not have ANY middle initial. We have decided to leave him as just "John Cornell" in her file until some other document may surface that gives his middle initial. We don't know how the tombstone transcriber got the inaccurate middle initial "C." The stone with the "Woodman of the World" inscription belongs to John's son, William H. H. Cornell.

Odyne Cornell, in her letter dated 25 January 1966 says:

"As for the names of the immediate family, my grandfather's name was John. He had 3 sons who lived past childhood--named Harrison, John and George. George was the lawyer, and my father. Grandfather had the following daughters who lived past childhood--Elizabeth, Celestia, Katherine and Jane. There was one older daughter who died in infancy, and two little boys who died in childhood."

According to the "History of Williams County, Ohio," John Cornell arrived there in the fall of 1838. He was 30 years old and his wife was 23. (Note: John's age was given as 36 years old in the 1850 Indiana Census. That would give an 1814 birth date. This does not agree with the tombstone. I have used the date on the tombstone for my data.) Williams County is located in the far northwestern part of Ohio.

John and Lavina and their two young daughters, Lydia Ann and Mary Ann Elizabeth had traveled by wagon from Stark County, Ohio in the company of his brother, Benjamin and Benjamin's brother-in-law, John W. Bowersox and their families. (I am assuming they originated their final move in Stark County, based on a letter that Benjamin wrote to the William Skelton family in Stark County on 13 May 1839.--See the letter under "notes" for Benjamin.) It is not known how long the families were in Stark County. It couldn't have been for very long. Shortly after their arrival in Williams County, Ohio another child was added to the family--a son named William Henry Harrison Cornell was born 10 December 1839. In all later censuses, William H. H. reports that he was born in Indiana.

John was a teacher. He taught about two terms in about 1839 in the first schoolhouse built in the township at the village of Denmark, Ohio (now Edon Ohio). It was built of logs and stood north of the public square. The reading books were "The New Testament" and "McGuffy's Readers." A typical schoolhouse had seats made of basswood logs split into halves. The desks were placed around the walls. The pupils "were compelled to sit upon these rude and uncomfortable seats for six hours per day of school. Most of the pupils found their way through the woods to the schoolhouses, roads being comparatively unknown."

The family must have moved across the border from Williams County, Ohio into DeKalb County, Indiana shortly after the fall school term ended in December 1839 and before W.H.H. was born. The family is in the 1840 and 1850 censuses of DeKalb County, Indiana.

Since John purchased his property from the Federal Government, he was the first to own it. It was virgin land, which had to be cleared for the construction of a cabin and for farming. Some areas may have been swampy. There were many low-lying lands in the region. He probably worked on the land and cabin in 1838 and 1839, while he was living in a temporary cabin on his brother, Benjamin's farm in Ohio. Of course, most work would have had to be done in the good weather of summer. John would have been teaching school in the fall and winter.

The family lived on this land until about 1854. John may have sold it sometime in the spring of that year, although in one of Odyne Cornell's letters she says:

"My grandfather (John) had owned a good farm in Indiana, and eventually sold it. That was very hard on the older children."

(He may have retained ownership of the farm in DeKalb County and purchased another in Illinois. Indiana land records need to be investigated to determine the date of sale.)

He was living in Shelby County, Illinois on 13 June 1854 when he bought land (see report that follows). Again, he was the original patentee as he bought it from the US Government. It was in the NW 1/4 of the SE 1/4 of Section 15, Township 13, Range 2 East. It amounted to 40 acres, and he paid $2.50 an acre. John may have purchased additional lands from other farmers, but this was the only land where he is on record as the original Patentee. His brother, Charles had a large farm in the neighboring Township 14. He had purchased and patented 200 acres while he was living in Shelby and Macon Counties in Illinois in 1852 and 1853, and I believe that his land was probably located in Macon County. (See "notes" under Charles S. Cornell.) I haven't seen a map of this area, but I would imagine that the two brothers were neighbors. Their mother, Anna Mary Fair-Cornell may have been living with one of them by 1854.

In August, 1856, three months after the birth of John's youngest son, George W., the two families began moving westward to claim homesteads in the newly opened Nebraska Territory. John and Lavina traveled with their eight children, ranging in age from 19 to newborn. They were accompanied by John's mother, who by this time was 73 years old.

According to the narrative in Odyne's letter, it seems that John and Charles did not sell their Illinois farm land before moving to Nebraska. They may have rented it out in order to have income from the crops (?)

John, Charles and their mother, Anna Mary each claimed homesteads in Richardson County, Nebraska in the fall of 1856. They would have traveled by wagon, and would have had to cross the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, along with many smaller rivers and tributaries. I don't know what kind of transportation was available on the rivers at that time. They may have floated the wagons across, but it is possible that there were flat-boats for hire. (pure speculation) They probably forded across the smaller bodies of water. Richardson County is just west of the Missouri River in the far southeastern part of Nebraska. There should have been river bottom lands available for the new homesteaders. Verdon, where they settled, is about twenty miles west of the Missouri River.

We don't know what caused John and Charles to leave their lands in the rich farming areas of Illinois for the hardships of pioneer life in Nebraska. It may have been the free Homestead land. These young men seem to have been very entreprenurial as well as self-sufficient.

Odyne Cornell, on 18 March 1864, says:

"John Cornell and his brother Charles decided to move to Nebraska because they expected that territory to develop rapidly and it seemed like the door of opportunity. Instead, because of the Civil War and trouble with the Sioux Indians, the country did not develop as expected."

Jesse Emerson speculates that the issue of slavery may have been a factor. Smith, their father, and William, their brother were known to have been abolitionists. Their homes were reportedly "stations" on the underground railroad. John and Charles may have had the same anti-slavery convictions. When Nebraska was opened for settlement, the abolitionists were pressing to get a majority of anti-slave citizens into the Territory before the Kansas-Nebraska Act allowed the citizens to vote on whether to allow slavery in Nebraska Territory. The pro-slavery movement was not successful at getting many slave owners to leave their lands in the south and move west. They knew that if the vote went against them they would immediately lose their slaves. (It is not known if this political situation had any bearing on the reasons for the move.) However, Charles S. and John's son, John Franklin were involved in Nebraska politics. Charles was reported to have served as a legislator and Odyne reports that he helped draft the state constitution. John Franklin served as the State Auditor.

From "Hollingsworth: Western Migration and Settlement..." 1995, by Earl Darrah, page 53, 54:

Letter from Odyne, dated 25 January 1966, states that "My grandfather and his brother, Charles Cornell, decided to move to Nebraska in 1856. The land had not actually been opened for settlement at that date, but would soon be. There was only one other family in the state, and they were not near. My father was the youngest in the family, and was born in Illinois on May the 15th 1856.

"When he (George W.) was only three months old, my grandfather and great uncle Charles started to Nebraska, where they had heard the soil was wonderful. They started after August 15. They found that it took longer to make the trip than they had counted on. When they reached the Missouri River, the water was high and the river rough. The wagon with the food supplies over turned, and they reached their destination when the weather was cold and without the food they needed. Fortunately, books and tools came over safely. A shelter had to be fixed quickly. There was no time to make the log houses they had planned, or to make the soddies that were the custom farther west. The only thing they could do was to cut the long grass, bind it with vines, etc., and construct hay houses. Of course they could not have a fire in a hay house, so they heated their water and cooked out doors in the dead of winter. They made sort of a manger in the hay house where they put the baby. For food, they depended upon hunting, nuts from the timber and some wild fruits. Luckily they all survived, and as soon as possible both brothers constructed nice log cabins, with a loft where some of them could sleep...At the time we left Nebraska, one of those log cabins, where our branch of the family lived, was still standing; it was being used as a barn."

(John and Lavia's son, Charles T. Cornell, died in March of 1857--about six months after their arrival. His death may have been brought about by the hardships described above. (speculation) Their experience at establishing homesteads in the unsettled lands in Indiana and Illinois probably helped them to know how to adapt to the unexpected--although I don't see how anyone could be prepared for the circumstances they found on the Plains Frontier.)

Continuing with Odynes letter:

"Twice a year, the Sac and the Fox Indians came through on their way to visit the Sioux. Our grandparents always feasted them on hog meat which they had stored in barrels, both going and coming. The Cornell families always followed the rule in Cornell College in New York. That college was founded on the principle that both the hand and mind should be educated. This college was founded by our ancestors in England according to Burkes Peerage. (Note it was founded by Ezra Cornell, a distant cousin in America) So the Cornell sons were each trained in the liberal arts as well as in technical skill. Grandfather was trained as a carpenter. They also taught their children while in a school-less territory. They trained them in math, philosophy, physics, and also in the skill of farming and technical skills. Of course with a part of each day in school work, all worked at the farming operations. I was astonished when I settled on a school land homestead in Texas after I finished school, to see my father (George W.) construct furniture out of boards left over from the building. Later he had a summer house on a lake, when in his eighties, where he stayed during the hot weather. The carpenters who were building an addition to the house said it could not be added in a way that it would not leak. He climbed onto the roof and did the work himself.

"My grandfather talked to the Indians by sign language. He made them gifts of bows and arrows for their hunting when they made their annual trips thru. Of course they were his friends. The Civil War slowed the immigration into Nebraska. The Sioux were aroused and during or after the war, word was brought that the Sioux were on the war path and were approaching. There were few guns in the country, and no real defense. But the families of all settlers were gathered together in Uncle Charles' house--that is the women and children.

"Some of the men were without guns. They had only farming tools, spades, axes, scythes, etc. There was no hope of defeating the Indians. Only thing they could do was try and hold them off until the army, who had been informed, came to their rescue. Fortunately they arrived ahead of the Indians and no one was hurt.

"This was after the Blackhawk War and the Sac and Fox were peaceful. The Sioux were war-like by nature and knew less of the white man. One time when the Sac and Fox Indians returned from a visit to the Sioux, many of their braves were missing. Grandfather asked them (by sign language) what had happened. They, by putting their hands up to their necks, indicted that they had been killed by the Sioux.

"When my father (George W.) was about 8, some surveyors came thru on their way to survey the territory, in preparation for opening it up for settlement. A little boy about 12 was with them. My father wanted to go along, and they would have taken him but grandmother was afraid of the Sioux. Sure enough the Sioux attacked the surveyors. The little boy was on a mule, setting up some equipment, when the attack came. The men could only get on the horses and flee. The mule was slower and closer to the Indians and the boy was killed. I do not know just where the Sioux were located. In the early days, the Nebraska territory comprised land that was later made into other states. I don't know just when this division of territory was made, but the Sioux were in what was the Nebraska Territory.

"When the first settlers came in, the Cornell brothers allowed their children to attend the schools in their homes without charge. There were no doctors, and when anyone in the neighborhood was sick, they appealed to grandma (Lavina) for help. She voluntarily would go to their aid, as she knew the technique of treating people on the frontier. For example, for ordinary digestive trouble, they would make a tea of slippery elm bark, hot foot baths for a fever, etc. Grandmother was practically immune to infection so she had no fear of that. She always changed her clothes when she returned so as not to bring infection into the family.

"There were a few deaths. No funeral homes; no way to get a casket except by way of crossing the Missouri into Iowa, which could be hazardous at times. So grandfather (John) with his skill with tools, would make coffins, as an expression of good will. Dad said they were beautifully made. There is a cemetery in Nebraska known as The Cornell Cemetery. This is the oldest cemetery in the state. When my great Uncle Charles and my grandfather came to Nebraska, their mother came with them. She died well in her nineties and I presume was the first person buried there. Some of the later generation are buried there too, but I don't know just how many. Also some of the neighbors are buried in that sole cemetery in the vicinity.

"The families were not without any contact. White men came thru on their way to the West, and also the surveyors. When the war was over the country settled up rapidly, and by the time I was old enough to remember, we were a normal agricultural community, with two large cities--Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska. Grandfather helped with the building of the first state capitol building and great uncle Charles helped draft the state constitution.

"Both brothers had land in Illinois that was growing in value. In the depression following the Civil War, corn dropped to 10 cents a bushel and other crops likewise. It was so cheap that it cost more to deliver it to market than it would bring. The farmer burned it for fuel. Then Abraham Lincoln broke the depression by issuing paper money. Corn rose to a dollar a bushel. But during the slack period, the Nebraskans knew hard times. They sold their land in Illinois. Great Uncle Charles invested in Nebraska land that later made him wealthy. Grandfather invested in horses that were in great demand during the Civil War. After the war, they dropped in value so he did not become rich. However, when he died (two weeks after my parents married) he left a good farm to grandmother Cornell, and she sold it and used the principal and interest to keep her in comfort in Verden, for the rest of her life. She died at about 82. She was meticulous in her house keeping, and did much to help the children of poor families during the depression. I remember her, altho I was not too old when she passed away."

From Odyne's letter dated 18 March 1964:

"Grandpa died soon after my father and mother married and mother knew little about him. His health had broken some years before that. My father spent a year with him in California because of it, and though it likely prolonged his life, it could not cure him. He was a sick man at the time the little Miller children were with them, and they may not remember him as he was when well. He and Great-Uncle Charles worked hard with their farm work, and in addition held regular church services for their families every Sunday, and regular schools in their homes during week days--so the families were well educated, and in particular the boys, by the time there were public schools first opened in Nebraska. The older boys entered the university, but married almost immediately afterwards, or, in Uncle Harry's case, were in war either before or after that time. As settlers moved in, they attended this school and church in the Cornell home without charge.

"There are some interesting things that I learned from my father. He had two experiences that show that our grandparents were reputed to be unusual people One time he had been hired to help a man's son who was in trouble in the Navy. Dad traveled to the coast to see the captain. When the captain learned that he was from Nebraska, he asked him if he knew of the family of John Cornell. When he learned that Dad was his son, he drew out the red carpet, as one might say. His remark was that Grandpa Cornell was a prince. He had met him, I suppose, as a military leader going through Nebraska. He feasted my father and treated him like a prince in memory of his father, John Cornell.

"At another time, there was a title to land that needed to be corrected by the signature of some of the Sac and Fox Indians. So my father went up into the Indian Territory. This was a full generation after the time of Grandfather, but his name was a legend among the Indians. They also took out the Red Carpet so to say. Dad was feasted and there was a dance and a lot of fanfare in honor of Grandfather. The dance, however, was a white man's style of dancing. Grandfather could not speak the Indian language--at least at first, but was skillful talking with them in the sign language, I suppose plus a few Indian words as time went on.

"It may seem funny to some to trace a family so far back into the past, but the same traits can be prominent from generation to generaton, and whenever they appear, they are renewed again, and can be carried on indefinitely. Also people are inclined to marry people of their own general type, and that strengthens the inherited traits of both families.

"The Cornell courage shows itself under the most adverse circumstance--a condition that will inevitably appear every few generations--by accident or by a sort of cycle. The down years develop a strength that is carried on into more prosperous generations, if the spiritual qualities do not decline otherwise. I often think of the courage shown by my widowed aunts, who faced life with little, but preserved and increased their economic status and by their own efforts.

"Our family is the only line from Grandpa Cornell that bears the family name "Cornell", with sons to carry on the name. But that is of little consequence. 'A rose by any other name will smell as sweet.' So whether you are Reilly, Miller, Lonergan or Cornell, your interest in the Cornell ancestry is just as much as any. "

It appears that 48 year old John and 45 year old Lavina did not have more children after their move, since no additional children are found in later census reports.

There were two children, Sarah Catherine and George Washington, who were living with other families at the time of the 1860 Census. Jesse Emerson speculates that it may have been because John's mother, Anna Mary Fair-Cornell, who was living with him, was very ill. She died shortly after this census was taken. (Given the dates, she might have died shortly before the census, but somehow got counted, anyway.) The two younger children may have been sent to live with friends or relatives during this difficult time.

There was a 10 year old boy named John W. Miller living with John and Lavina and family in Richardson County, Nebraska in 1870. Their daughter, Mary Ann Elizabeth, had married George Washington Miller in 1857. John may have been Mary's son, who was born in 1860. Mary's husband died sometime before 1868. Jesse Emerson reports that the boy was named John Cornell Miller. The middle name doesn't match the initial on this census report. I don't know where Mary A .E. Miller was at the time of this census. From indications in Odyne's letter quoted above, it seems that John and Lavina helped to raise two of Mary's (Lizzie's) "Miller" children.

Betty sent a part of a letter from Ola Cornell McManus, daughter of William Henry Harrison Cornell, and grand daughter of John Cornell.
It is dated 29 December 1939 and sent from Falls City Nebraska to Mattie Carnahan:
"I am wondering if I might be able to get some information with regards to the old family Bible of Uncle William and Aunt 'Delana' Cornell (Magdelana). Uncle William was a brother to my grandfather Cornell, whose name was John Cornell. John moved to Nebraska in 1856. I was in Oklahoma City visiting my Uncle George Cornell and family. He is a brother of my father.
"We are trying to find pictures of (all the children of Smith Cornell).
"We have found the Cornell coat of arms and I have read the wills and deeds of a number of the Cornells who lived in Maryland. I read them in the courthouse at Fredrick, Maryland. I have an old deed that was made in 1768. A SMITH CORNELL bought this land which was called "Peggy's and Molly's Delight" and his wife's name was PHEBE.
"Benjamin, son of Smith is my great-great grandfather. Smith Cornell of (the War of) 1812 (born in 1776) was a son of Benjamin and was administrator of Benjamin's Will. "My father was named after Uncle William's son, William Henry Harrison Cornell of DeKalb County, Indiana."
"The Cornell Cemetery in Verdon, Liberty Township, Section 4, Richardson County, Nebraska is on the land that was homesteaded by John Cornell. He deeded this land for a burial place."

There was a "James" listed with this family in 1870. He was reportedly 20 years old. He is not found in any other censuses. Eileen Francis thinks this "James" was really "Jane M." and reported incorrectly as a male. I agree, based on the fact that "James" is not mentioned in any other record, and John and Lavina are reported to have had ten children (in Lavina's obituary). All ten are accounted for in this family report.

John Cornell, 71 years old, is enumerated in the 1880 census of Liberty Township, Richardson County, Nebraska. His son, John, 32 years old, was still living with his parents.

(Note: John reportedly named his son, William Henry Harrison, after his brother, William's son of the same name. William's son was born 19 May 1840. That would mean that John's son's birth date would be after May 1840. Is his birth date of 10 December 1839 wrong? This is the date given in the "History of Williams County Ohio" and on William's tombstone. Beth doesn't find a boy baby listed with John's family in the 1840 Census. However I find it hard to believe that both the history and the tombstone for John's son could have the wrong date. The 1850 Census of DeKalb County, Indiana says that William was 9 years old and born in Indiana. That would give him an 1841 date of birth, and would be consistent with the family stories that he was named after William Henry's son, William Henry Harrison Cornell. I can't see any to resolve these conflicts, unless some old Bible Records should be unearthed!)

Jesse R. Emerson III is from the line of John's brother Charles. He reports that there were no males in Charles' line who carried the Cornell name. Therefore any Cornells living in SE Nebraska would be from this John Cornell's line.

Notes for LAVINA WILHIDE:
Her name is spelled "Lavina" or "Levina" in various sources. There is no way to be sure of the correct spelling. However, her son, John F. Cornell, named one of his daughters "Helen Lavina Cornell" after his mother. This is the way her name was spelled in John F's will. Her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, named a daughter "Elizabeth Lavina." I am assuming that is the correct spelling.

In a letter from Eileen Francis 17 November 2001, she reports:
"I sent for the DAR application papers from two of Levina's daughters. One was submitted by Ola Cornell McManus. In it she states that her father was born on 10 December 1839 in DeKalb County, Indiana and died 14 July 1903 at Verdon, Nebraska. Both grand-daughters spelled Lavina's surname (Wilhide) with a "d" instead of a "t", giving a corrrected maiden name for Lavina. Previous reports had her as Lavina Wilhite.

66 year old "Levina" Cornell is enumerated in the 1880 census of Liberty Township, Richardson County, Nebraska. Her husband, John, and son, John are included.
There was a "February Brandy", female, 18 years old, born in Indiana; and a "Jacob Long," 18 years old, born in Tennessee living with John and Lavina in 1880.

From Odyne Cornell's letter dated 25 January 1966:

"Grandmother Cornell's mother was a Miller. She had an uncle, George Washington Miller, known as Wash Miller, and he was considered the best lawyer in the East. Wash Miller and our great grandmother Wilhite were descended from a John Miller. This John Miller was with George Washington during the Revolutionary War and that is the way the name Geoge Washington got into the family."

From her letter dated 18 March 1964:

"I have not told you all about the lineage of Grandma Cornell. One time Ethern Tingley made us a visit in Oklahoma, and he said something about having the old family album. In it was a picture of the old Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. He said that Grandma always clledl him "Cousin Bill" and that he was a cousin. My father had never told us that, so I asked him. He said "Yes, that was true"--that grandma was related to the Kaiser. I do not know whether it was a first cousin or second cousin or even a third--but it was close enough that he was "Cousin Will" to my grandmother. Long before my mother had told me that, Grandmother Cornell had expressed a wish that some grandchild would learn German so they could read some letters she had that would trace their ancestry in Germany. She did not enlighten mother as to what the ancestry was. I started to learn German in Auburn, Nebraska, but we moved to San Diego and in that school there was no German taught--so I dropped it. When Grandmother died she left that correspondence with Aunt Jane Tingley. Ethern, as the oldest son, had the letters in his possession. At the time we were discussing this ancestry, he told us what happened. He and his wife moved about from place to place and she did not know the importance of these letters--only that they were a constant box of seemingly useless German writings that neither could read--so she burned them to get rid of them when Ethern was away from the house. Of course she was sorry and not to blame. Some of the older members of the family should have looked after the matter.

"But aside from the lineage, the thing we have most to be proud of is the integrity and industry and kindness of Grandpa and Grandma Cornell...As settlers moved in, they always looked to Grandmother in time of sickness as she was skillful in the care of the sick. Even as an old lady, she kept boarders (the school teachers) and used her extra money to help the poor children of Verden. My father tried to get her to give it up, but she showed him how much she made and what she did with the money. She was educated in German, but after her children were raised and the Simpson Boys (two of them) were with her attending school, she learned to read English in her old age and learned to read it well. She was neat as a pin-I would say to a fault. Very strict with her children, but always interested in their welfare and future. I remember my grandmother well, although she died when I was about seven years old. She made us a visit every year."

Obituary published in Lincoln, Nebraska 20 November 1896. Received from the Lincoln-Lancaster Genealogical Society. (Note: Her name is incorrectly given as Loorna instead of Lavina)

Death of Mrs. Loorna Cornell

"VERDON, Neb., Nov. 19, 1896.

"Mrs. Loorna Cornell, the aged mother of John F. Cornell, state auditor-elect, died at her home in this place at 5 o'clock this morning. On the 13th of August she suffered a stroke of paralysis and has lain helpless since that time, but death was a result of old age, she being eighty-four years, eleven months and twenty-six days old. Since the stroke of paralysis she has been gradually growing weaker. It caused the failure of eyesight and almost total failure of speech, and she and the family realized that it was only a matter of a short time for the end to come. The funeral services will be held tomorrow, November 20, at 2 p.m., and the remains will be interred in the Cornell Cemetery."

The age given in the obituary would give Lavina a birth date of 23 November 1811.

A second obituary, sent to me by Eileen Frances:

Obituary

(This notice was reprinted in the "Nemaha County Herald" (Auburn, Nebraska) on 27 November 1896:)

"The following notice of the death of the mother of G. W. Cornell of this city, which occurred last week at her home in Verdon, was published in the Verdon Vedette:

"Mrs. Lovina Cornell, familiarly known to most all in this vicinity as Grandma Cornell, died at her home just east of the Christian church at four o'clock yesterday morning, November 18, 1896. She was born in Frederick County, Maryland in 1814 (see previous obit), her maiden name being Lovina Wilhite. She was married to John Cornell in 1836 in Maryland, where they resided for about two years after which they moved to Ohio, where they lived about two years. From there they moved to near Ft. Wayne, Indiana where they resided until 1856 when they moved to Nebraska and settled on the place known as the Cornell farm just north of Verdon, where they lived until Mr. Cornell's death in 1882.(Note, it was January 1883) Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Cornell, three of whom died in infancy, and seven are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother. Mrs. Cornell united with the Lutheran church in her girlhood and was active...in that faith until she came to Nebraska after which, owing to the fact that they were among the first settlers here, and no churches being established in this part of the county at that time, she held no membership with any church until she moved to Verdon when she united with the Evangelical church. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Honstedt at the Evangelical church, after which the remains will be interred in the Cornell cemetery, northwest of town..."

Marriage Notes for JOHN CORNELL and LAVINA WILHIDE:
This part of Frederick County became Carroll County, Maryland in 1837. The marriage may have been registered in either county.

iv. CHARLES SMITH CORNELL[18], b. Abt. 1814, Frederick County, Maryland[19]; d. 02 February 1884, Humboldt, Richardson County, Nebraska; m. ANNA HAWES, Abt. 1847, Washington County, Maryland[20]; b. February 1829, Washington County, Maryland[21,22]; d. 14 March 1922, Lincoln, Lancaster County, Nebraska.

Notes for CHARLES SMITH CORNELL:
Charles and Ann left Maryland and moved to Illinois around 1849-1850. As noted in the following letters, Jesse Emerson believed that his mother, Anna Mary Fair-Cornell was with them. They were in Madison County, Illinois at the time of the Census which was taken 22 October 1850. Anna Mary was not living with them at that time. Sonora was 4/12 years old, which would give her a birth date June, 1850. They reported that she was born in Illinois.
Charles was working as a school teacher. (Madison County includes part of the present city of St. Louis.)

Illinois became a state in 1818. The first settlers came by way of the Ohio River from states to the south and east. Two of the states contributing early settlers were Pennsylvania and Maryland. Most of these early pioneers settled in the southern part of the state, along rivers and smaller waterways. About 1825, settlers from the New England states and New York came by way of the Erie Canal, the Great Lakes, or the National road to settle the northern portion of the state. Industrial growth in the 1830's and 1840's brought thousands of Irish, Southern Europeans and Germans to man the factories around Lake Michigan. The expulsion of Sauk and Fox warriors in 1832 ended the Indian threats. Transportation improvements between 1838 and 1856, such as the National Road, the Illinois-Michigan Canal and the Illinois Central and the Rock Island Railroads, which were completed in the early 1850's, opened up the central part of the state to settlement.

When Charles and Anna Cornell moved to Madison County, near St. Louis, they probably passed through Ohio and Indiana first, to visit Charles' brothers, Benjamin and John. Brothers, William and Samuel also made the move from Carroll County, Maryland to DeKalb County, Indiana in 1850. It is not known if these three brothers came at the same time or a few months apart.

Charles and Anna may have followed an overland route, going south from Allen County, Indiana on the Vincennes and Indianapolis road which angled sharply southwest through Indiana, picking up the National Road at Terre Haute which would have lead directly to St. Louis. (pure speculation) Sometime between October 1850 and 25 May 1853, the family had moved to Moultrie County, which was southeast of Decatur. This was their residence when Charles and Anna signed a deed selling property in Maryland on that date. (See Jesse Emerson's report which follows.)

Note: This conflicts with the reports found in the Illinois sales of Federal Lands records. A summary of these reports follows:

Charles was living in Shelby County when he bought 160 acres 3 August 1852 (Receipt #17.384; Illinois Archives). It was located in the NW Quarter of Section 35; Township 14N; Range 2E. He paid $2.50 an acre($400) for the property. On 16 December 1852, he purchased an additional 40 acres in the SW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of Section 35; Township 14N; Range 2E. He used a land Warrant Certificate #2056 for this purchase, and he purchased the Warrant from Samuel L. Fish (price paid is not given). Charles was living in Macon County when he purchased an additional 40 acres in the NW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of Section 35; Township 14N; Range 2E on 15 August 1853 (Receipt #20596; Illinois Archives). He paid $2.50 an acre, for a total of $100. This purchase gave him 240 continguous acres of land in Section 35. The purchase records do not tell which county the properties were in. However, since Charles was living in Macon County in August 1853 when he made the latest purchase, it is reasonable to assume that the entire parcel was in Macon County.

John, Charles' brother, was living in Shelby County when he purchased a Patent (Receipt #23094; Illinois Archives) on forty acres of land in the adjacent Township 13N; Range 2E; Section 15 on 15 June 1854. He paid $2.50 an acre for a total of $100. I haven't investigated land sales records, but John may have bought additional land from other individual owners. John and Charles would have been neighbors. I am assuming that John's purchase was most likely in Macon County, also. For further investigation of these properties, I believe Macon County would be the first place to start. Shelby, Macon and Moultrie counties are adjacent to one another, however, and records may be found in all three counties.

According to the reports in Odyne Cornell's letters, it appears that the brothers did not sell their Illinois farms before migrating to Nebraska. They seem to have retained title to them (maybe renting them out) until after the Civil War.

I have the papers from a Court case in Macon County, Illinois. On 15 February 1859, Charles S. Cornell filed a suit against Washington Malone. Mr. Malone owed Charles $600 "for value received." The note, dated 30 April 1858, stated that he was to pay this amount to Charles by 1 October 1858. This case was heard at the Circuit Court of Macon County, Illinois at the March term 1859. I don't see the result of the judgment in these papers, but Charles was ordered to pay $7.88 in court costs. The papers do not identify the "value received."
(Illinois Regional Archives; Reference No. KJ037)

Jesse R. Emerson, a descendant of Charles Smith Cornell wrote to Betty McClanahan on 8 December 1982:

"My line is through Charles S. Cornell, a brother of William Cornell. Census data places his birth date in 1813 or early 1814. It appears that the older brother, John Cornell and William went to Indiana and settled in Allen County near Fort Wayne in about 1839. (Note: Later reports have John arriving in DeKalb County about 1838, and William arriving in DeKalb County in about 1850.)

"...I cannot locate Charles S. Cornell in the 1850 Census, but he records his oldest child as born in Maryland in 1851. (His father died in March, 1846.) Shortly after 1851, Charles; his wife, Anna Hawse; and his mother, Anna Mary Fair-Cornell left Maryland and headed west. (Note: later reports say they left in 1849--Charles was counted in the 1850 Census in Illinois) According to my grandmother, they had pigs, chickens and a lot of books because Charles was a teacher and his wife a former student, 16 years younger than he. My great grandfather and an older sister were born in Illinois, so they spent some time there. Brothers John and Charles S. and mother, Anna Mary headed west to Nebraska, and they all homesteaded in Richardson County, near the town of Verdon. (They received their land patent 5 September 1860.)

"They did well with property valued at $2500 in 1860 and $10,000 by 1870."

Excerpt from a letter that Jesse sent to Betty McClanahan 15 February 1986:

"My grandmother called Charles Smith Cornell a scholar and a school teacher, but I have found no record of any school he attended. I do know that in the 1850 (Illinois) Census he lists himself as a teacher, but by 1860 he was a farmer."

"Thus I make this history as this for Charles Cornell and Ann Hawse. In about 1846 Charles was teaching school for Beard's Church. The history of western Maryland records that Beard's Church hired teachers for a secular school but gives no names. (In a letter of May 31, 2001, Jesse says that Charles probably taught at St. Peter's Lutheran Church (Beard's Church) school in Washington Co., Maryland.) Ann was a student, as my grandmother states, and she and Charles were married, eloped, or just took up together! I cannot find any marriage record, but on 26 June 1847 Charles Smith Cornell of Washington County bought a 7/8 acre lot on the south side of Turnpike Street in nearby Cavetown, Maryland. The sellers were trustees for the German Reformed Church of Cavetown. (Note: Jesse says there was no spouse listed on the deed) Charles Smith Cornell, with his wife, Ann, made a deed in Illinois on 25 May 1850 to resell this lot to the Church. (Washington Co. Land Record IN 5 50, folio 142, Maryland State Archives) From the Illinois census, which was taken 22 October 1850, we know that they were in Madison County at that time. He lists his occupation as a teacher.

"The deed wasn't recorded until 25 May 1853, and now the family is residing in Moultrie County, Illinois. (Southeast of Decatur) I expect the marriage and birth of a child soon thereafter was a scandal for the German Lutherans. Charles was 18 years older than Ann. They must have left for the west after the birth of their second child, Senora in 1849. However, the (Illinois) census lists her as born in May 1850. Later census lists always show that she was born in Maryland. There are conflicts in the records. (In his letter of May, 2001, Jesse says that he believes that Senora was born in Illinois. Her age was 4/12 at the time of the census on 22 Oct 1850. That would place her birth in June of 1850. Charles and Ann made a Deed in Illinois to transfer their lot in Maryland in May of 1850.)

"My grandmother always maintained that her Aunt Senora was born before they left for Nebraska.

Ann always spelled her name Hawes, except when she signed her son's (Charles Edward Cornell) marriage license she spelled it 'Hause'.

"Charles reportedly served in the Nebraska Legislature and probably died around 1875." (Note: I have not found service in the state government documented.)

In her letter of 25 January 1966, Odyne Cornell said:

"Grandfather (John) had a brother (six brothers in fact), but only one brother who came to Nebraska when he did, named Charles Smith Cornell. He had a wonderful wife, Aunt Ann and wonderful daughters and 3 sons. The only grandchildren were a grand daughter and a son descended from one of the boys. I have lost track of them.

"When my great uncle Charles and my grandfather came to Nebraska, their mother came with them. She died well in her nineties and I presume was the first person buried there (in the Cornell Cemetery).

"Grandfather helped with the building of the first state capitol building and great uncle Charles helped draft the state constitution.

"Both brothers had land in Illinois that was growing in value. In the depression following the Civil War, corn dropped to .10 a bushel and other crops likewise.1 It was so cheap that it cost more to deliver it to market than it would bring. The farmer burned it for fuel. Then Abraham Lincoln broke the depression by issuing paper money. Corn rose to a dollar a bushel, but during the slack period, the Nebraskans knew hard times. They sold their land In Illinois. Great Uncle Charles invested in land that later made him wealthy."

The way of life for these Plains Pioneers is described in Billington's "Westward Expansion" and excerpts follow:

"Most of the Indians had ceded their land to the United States by 1854 when Nebraska became a Territory and was opened up to settlers. Life for these Pioneers on the Great Plains was very hard. Nature provided few comforts needed by man. They had come from regions of Indiana and Illinois where the lands were heavily forested. Here they found grassland. How to build homes with no timber; how to get water where there were no springs; how to keep warm where there was nothing to burn; how to find shelter against the elements--these were the obstacles presented to these hardy settlers and those that stayed to conquer them proved to be the strength and backbone of the prairie pioneers.

The first houses were usually a type of cave called a "dugout" which was a hole scooped in the side of a hill. A wall of sod would block the front and the top would be covered with a few poles which held up a layer of dirt and prairie grass. Whole families lived here until a more permanent structure--a sod house--could be built.

Sod was made by turning over furrows in a plot where turf was very thick. The long strips were cut into three-foot sections, taken to the building site and laid into walls in layers, much as with layering bricks. Spaces were left for two windows and a door. If lumber was available, the settler built a frame roof; if not, he used a ridge pole on two forked sticks, laid more poles as rafters and covered the roof with prairie grass covered with another thick layer of sod. A wooden door was made from packing boxes, a cloth over the windows a blanket hung down the center to make two rooms and a few chairs made from nail kegs and drygoods cases-- the house was ready for occupancy.

The houses were warm in the winter and cool in the summer, but they were always dusty and dirty and became soggy mudpits in rainy weather. Every family built a frame dwelling as soon as possible.

Water had to be hauled home in barrels and rainwater was collected in buffalow wallows and cisterns. The water was freezing in the winter and was hot and swarming with insects in the summer. It was a source of "prairie fever"- typhoid which befell many of these Plains settlers. The only alternative was a hand-dug well. It took at least two people--one would dig and the other hauled the dirt out with a bucket until a hole several feet across reached down to water level. In lowlands near streams, wells were 40-50 feet deep. On higher lands they went down two to three hundred feet before reaching water. Not until the 1880's was the well-drilling equipment available to relieve most people of this task.

Fuel was as hard to get as water. The timber along streambeds was quickly used--people would go 40-50 miles to gather and haul it to their lands. When it was gone, they depended on dried buffalo excrement which was gathered by the wagonload and piled up for winter use. As the herds were eliminated, even this source of fuel disappeared. Cow manure was burned near cattle trails. Other means of fuel were sunflower stalks and corncobs and dried grass twisted into bundles so it would burn slowly. No satisfactory fuels were found until railroads brought coal to the region.

In the spring, the settlers were plagued by floods from winter runoff. Summers were hot, humid and brought drought that burned the young crops to a crisp. The temperature often hovered near 110 degrees for weeks at a time. Another danger, prairie fires were common in the tinder-dry grass. Farmers learned to keep a circle of land around their cabins burned clear as protection. In more temperate years, another plague descended upon the settlers--grasshoppers. They came in clouds, burying the countryside several inches deep. They ate everything, including the lumber on the house walls, the netting on the windows and the clothes inside the cabins. Is it any wonder that so many of the early settlers slaughtered their livestock and headed back east?

As summer gave way to fall and the onset of winter, even worse hardships were to be overcome. The storms that swept the open grasslands were ice and snow and dust particles that came in great blizzards. After an all-night storm, settlers would wake to find their furniture covered with snow and their houses so cold that food froze on the table. Ice covered cattle until it coated their heads, often as thick as a bushel basket. The animal would have to lay its heavy head on the ground. Smaller animals were brought into the houses with the people in an effort to keep them alive. Often the settlers and their horses, pigs, calves and chickens were confined in their crowded sod house for days while the thermometer rested at twenty to thirty degrees below zero.

Settlements in the years before the Civil War were on the eastern fringes of Kansas and Nebraska. Small communities were all nestled in river bottoms, and all were in the early stages of development where new arrivals absorbed most local produce. With the close of the Civil War the influx began that filled the states with new settlers. By 1880, Nebraska had more than 450,000 people.

Betty sent a copy of a letter from the County Clerk of Richardson County, Nebraska 13 July 1979:

"..In answer to your letter of inquiry...Mr. Stacy Brown of 1704 Nemaha Ave., Falls City, Neb. advised me that he knew something about the Cornell land that was located in Section 3, Township 2, Range 15. I checked this property and found the original patent on this land issued to Charles S. Cornell, Mary A. Cornell, and Charles F. Cornell. It speaks of a military service of a Joseph Devon with a date of March 3, 1855 but the patent was issued on September 5, 1860. (Note: I don't know who this Charles F. Cornell was.)

"Then in a later entry I found a decree Determining Heirship and Right of Descent and Barring Claims dated and filed on January 27, 1947 for Charles S. Cornell who passed away on February 2, 1884. The heirs named were Anna H. (widow), Senora C. Cornell, Mary A. Cornell, Emma J. Cornell, Nettie M. Cornell and Idear A. Cornell (now Idear A. Tucker.)"

There was a small notice of Charles' death in "The Nebraska State Journal" published 17 February 1884:

"At Humboldt, February 2, C. Cornell, aged 70 years died."

This would give Charles a birth date of 1814. The ages as given in the censuses vary greatly. They were probably trying to hide Charles and Ann's age difference.

Jesse reports that the line of Charles S. Cornell died out as sons never married or they had only daughters.

Notes for ANNA HAWES:

Excerpt from a letter that Jesse R. Emerson sent to Betty McClanahan 15 February 1986:

"My mother knew Anne Hawes. I had long suspected that she was the daughter of George and Catharine (Sheitz) Hause of Washington County, Maryland. I know from my grandmother's family book that Charles and Anne had a child that died before they left Maryland for Nebraska. This past spring I found a DAR cemetery index for St. Peter's Lutheran (Beard's) Church, the grave, "Alice Cornell, daughter of Charles and Ann Cornell, born 2 June 1848, died 21 March 1849. I was thrilled to find in an adjacent plot the memorial for George and Catharine Hause. Also buried here are their children, Catherine and Jacob Hause and nearby Henry Hause. This was almost proof, but not quite, so I wrote for the will of George and his wife. Sadly, there were none, but there was an estate administration for the daughter Catherine. It appears she never married and died 26 December 1907, intestate. Her sister Sarah's husband, Henry Rose, was appointed by the court to administer the estate. There on page 2 was the distribution--one share to Ann Cornell."

"Anna changed the spelling of her name to Hawse/Hawes, however as a witness to her son Charles Edward's marriage she signed Hause. Her parents were German Lutherans."

"All the Cornells, except Charles Smith, are buried at Wyuka Cemetery in Lincoln, Nebraska."

v. WILLIAM HENRY CORNELL[23], b. 14 January 1813, Frederick County, Maryland[24]; d. 16 February 1882, Near Auburn, Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana; m. MARY MAGDALENA HECK, 28 February 1840, Carroll County, Maryland; b. 25 December 1812, Near Taneytown, Frederick County, Maryland[25]; d. 25 May 1900, Near Auburn, Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.

Notes for WILLIAM HENRY CORNELL:

William Henry Cornell was born in Frederick County, Maryland. This is the part of Frederick County that became Carroll County in 1837.

In information taken from the "History of DeKalb County Indiana, 1885," a report about William's brother, Samuel, states that their father, Smith Cornell, was a well-educated man and a teacher by profession. His specialty was mathematics. "The children had good educational opportunities and were taught mainly by their father"--(home-schooled). I have not seen reports of where Smith Cornell taught or at what level.

Included in papers sent by Beth Cornell-Gerig is a mention of a land purchase. In 1838 William Cornell bought land in Adams County, Pennsylvania from John Young and wife Elizabeth for $150.00. This notation does not say how much land was conveyed, and gives a very poor description: "TaneyTown to Miller Town starting at the black oak tree."

William and Magdalena Heck were married in 1840. Is this where they began their married life? They were married in Carroll County, Maryland, which borders Adams County, Pennsylvania on the south. William's land was probably close to the state line.

1838 was the year that William's brothers, Benjamin and John started their journey to Williams County, Ohio. They may have left Maryland at an earlier date, since it seems that they spent some time in Stark County, Ohio before moving on farther west. Samuel followed soon after, making several trips to Indiana before finally settling there in 1850. It seems that while the brothers were beginning to explore and move on to new locations and new adventures, James, William and Charles remained in Maryland until after their father died 16 March 1846. Within the next few years, they, too went to the lands in the west. Their mother, Anna Mary (Fair) Cornell also left Maryland shortly after the death of her husband.
(See notes under the individual brothers.)

William and his wife, Mary Magdalena and five children moved to Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana in 1850. These children were all reportedly born in Carroll County, Maryland. They came overland by wagon, and the trip would have taken about three weeks. They purchased "Cornell Manor" 2 July 1850. They may have traveled west with his brother, Samuel, who already owned property in neighboring Jackson Township. Samuel had made several trips between Indiana and Maryland and had been teaching in Carroll County. He was married in March 1850. The newlyweds and William's family were probably eagerly looking forward to their "new" lives.

Taken from the "Atlas of DeKalb County, Indiana; With History and Statistics," by J. H. Beer and Company; published in 1880:

"DeKalb County, Indiana was first populated by "The Mound Builders" a group of Native Americans not related to the Pottawatomie Indians who later populated the region. The mound builders disappeared at about the same time as the Anasazi in the southwest.

"By a treaty with the Pottawatomie August 6, 1838 was the time stipulated for their removal to the Indian Territory beyond the Mississippi. A few stragglers remained behind until after 1840, their lands left to the incoming whites, and their occupation of this region a matter of history.

"To the east were cranberry bogs and "The Black Swamp," of northwestern Ohio. It was 120 miles long and 40 miles wide, and imposed a roadless, impassable barrier to migration. There were no navigable rivers in the area--only the smaller St. Joseph River and some creeks--making migaration by water difficult. The land office at Fort Wayne was established May 8, 1822. The first sale was held in October 1823 at the Fort. Land near the Fort was claimed first and was the most valuable. The outlying areas such as DeKalb County were settled about 10-15 years later. It was comprised of an unbroken forest.

"The average purchase was a quarter-section at $1.25 an acre, when purchased from the U.S. Government. (William Cornell bought his first 80 acres from Elias Smith, who was the original patentee. He paid $450 for the property, which may have included a log cabin by July 2, 1850.) William reportedly built a log cabin on a half acre after his arrival.

"Among the first pioneers in Butler Township, (where the William Cornell family later located), were Peter Fair and his sons, Charles and Abraham and Andrew Surfus and his sons, Jacob and John. Butler was organized as a Township September 5, 1837, and it was six miles square."

Peter Fair was William Cornell's uncle, being the brother of his mother, Anna Mary Fair. Butler Township history reports that Peter registered his land in 1835. The Fair and Surfus properties were 2-3 miles due west of the land in Section 36 that William Cornell would purchase in 1850. Peter's sons, Charles and Abraham owned lands in Sections 32 and 33 according to the 1863 Plat map. The Surfus, Fair, and Cornell families intermarried. Elias Smith entered his title for the land which was to become the Cornell homestead on August 5, 1837.

"The land is described as "generally rich; water abundant, and timber being at hand." The "roads" were Indian paths and military trails. Provisions had to be brought in from Fort Wayne or from the prairies to the north. Fort Wayne was 26 miles distant by land and about 50 miles by the winding river. Large dug-out canoes were made from the poplars lining the river and were used for navigation.

"In the earliest years, the nearest mill for grinding grain was at Fort Wayne. Because of the difficulties of travel, most pioneer families had to grind their own grain, and because of the difficulty of it were usually only able to grind a supply for one day at a time. When waters were high or in the winter-time this journey was almost impossible. The first primitive grist-mill in DeKalb County was about 1840, and it was capable of producing a bushel in three hours if the water was running high. As time wore on, the water power was changed to steam and many fine mills were raised. One was along Cedar Creek near Auburn, and this may be where the Cornell family took its grain for processing. (Cedar Creek Township was where the John Pring family lived--perhaps this was how Sebastian Cornell met his future wife, Margaret Pring,)

"In 1850, the County had a population of about 8,000 people. In May of 1856, the forty-one inhabitants of the township of Butler welcomed the first railroad--the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad. By the late 1860's the citizens of Auburn and Waterloo and others in DeKalb County raised $112,000 to insure the construction of the Fort Wayne, Jackson and Saginaw Railroad. It entered the county from the south and passed through the townships of Butler, Keyser, Union and Smithfield--and the town of Auburn. The first train rolled on this road on October 5, 1870."

This new avenue of travel and trade opened up these northeastern townships to new development. Many more people were attracted to the area. The commodity markets expanded, creating much economic benefit to the area's farmers. Many more rail lines were added in the succeeding years, so that the lands were crossed in many directions.

The Indiana homestead of William and Mary (Heck) Cornell is included in the National Register of Historic Places. Betty McClanahan sent me copies of the papers submitted to the U. S. Department of the Interior to nominate the home for this prestigious status:

WILLIAM H. CORNELL
Biographical and Historical Information

"Born to Smith and Mary Cornell in Caroll County, Maryland (in the part that was in Frederick County until 1837), on January 14, 1813, William Cornell came to DeKalb County, Indiana in 1850 with a wife, five young children, a team, a wagon full of household goods, and three hundred dollars in cash. He immediately purchased eighty acres of land and proceeded to build a log house and barn.

"By 1854 Mr. Cornell had purchased the eighty acres adjoining to the south. Within several more years, he had accumulated several hundred acres of good land. His four sons undoubtedly helped with the clearing and farming. The first railroad was completed through DeKalb County in 1856 resulting in much higher incomes for the county's farmers.

"On November 22, 1861, his two oldest sons, William Henry Harrison Cornell and Benjamin Franklin Cornell, enlisted in Company K, 44th Indiana Infantry and subsequently served at Shiloh, Corinth, Perryville, Stone River, and Mission Ridge. While in the south, according to Cornell family tradition, one of the sons saw a house which impressed him and sent a sketch of it back to his father.

"In the meantime, William Cornell continued to prosper. War time prices and three teenaged sons at home to assist with the farming enabled him to accumulate considerable money in a relatively short period of time.

"Circa 1863 he began construction of the home his son had sketched in the south. It was a magnificent structure indeed and probably one of the most impressive homes in DeKalb County. It reflected the taste and perhaps the dream of a man who became financially successful from a humble beginning, certainly a contrast from the log cabin of a few years before.

"Local and family tradition is persistent that the home, probably in an uncompleted state, was used as a station on the Underground Railroad. It is know that William Cornell's father and brother, Samuel, were active in the anti-slavery movement both in Maryland and in DeKalb County, Indiana. This fact coupled with the location of the house within one-half mile from the Eastern Indiana Underground Railroad Route and about fifteen miles, a night's journey, from Fort Wayne, a known railroad stop, lend considerable credence to the tradition. While it cannot be conclusively shown that it was, it very well could have been a station.

"William Cornell lived in the house until his death February 16, 1882. It was then sold to his son, Winfield Scott Cornell. William Cornell's widow, Magdalena, continued to live in the house with her son until her death in 1900. Winfield Scott Cornell sold the property in 1906 and may have moved to Missouri where two of his brothers were located.

"The next owner was Ebben F. Carnahan, another prosperous farmer in the area. It continued into the last decade as the home of successful farmers. Its restoration will hopefully enable the dream of William Cornell to exist at least another century."

There is a report in an article from the Auburn Indiana newspaper in the 1970's that says:
"Family tradition and local history (report) that the home was once used as an underground railroad stop for slaves fleeing north ot Canada. It is a well known fact, historically, that William Cornell's father and brother Samuel were both active in the anti-slavery movement both in Maryland and in DeKalb County, Indiana.

(Note: The address is 666 Cedar Chapel Road, Auburn, Indiana. It is called "Cornell Manor" in the title records. Its location is N 1/2 of the NW 1/4 of Section 36, Butler Township, Dekalb County, Indiana.) Some of the neighbors in 1880 were the Surface, Fair, Timberlin and Bowersox families, all related to the Cornells by marriage. The Pring family lived several miles south and west of the old house, in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, Indiana. According to the 1880 Plat Map of DeKalb County, William H. Cornell's brother, Samuel, owned two farms totaling 270 acres in Jackson Township, just across the county road to the east and about 1 mile north.

Added by Betty: "Mrs. Magdalena (Heck) Cornell was born December, 1812, and died May 25, 1900. Both William and Magdalena are buried in the Cedar Chapel Cemetery, Butler Township, Indiana."

Dean Cornell, a great-grandson of William's son, William Henry Harrison Cornell, still operates a farm which is just about a mile north of the original Cornell homestead. His farm was originally part of the Timberlain property and is in the SE Corner of the SE Quarter of Section 24. This land was purchased by his father, Percy Cornell from Hannah (Timberlin) and Elias Lige in 1892. Hannah was a sister of Eliza (Timberlin) Cornell, Percy's mother.
(Note: additional information in the "notes" for Dean Cornell.)
Dean said that when the Cornell boys returned from the Battle of Shiloh, they brought with them plans for a plantation home they had seen. They set about building a similar structure on the Cornell farm in Indiana. They made the bricks for the house on the property, building their own kiln for firing. They cut and groomed the lumber for finishing the inside from their own trees. They had piles of cherry, walnut, oak, and beech piled up next to the barn--enough to finish the interior. The barn was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, taking the stacks of lumber with it. The inside of the house was never completely finished while William owned it. The present owner, John Martin Smith finished the inside as authentically ("1860's") as he could. He put in the spiral staircase that goes from the main floor to the second floor. On June 30, 1961, Right of Way was granted to the State of Indiana for Interstate 69. Dean Cornell's farm is bordered by this highway, as is the Old Cornell Homestead.

The house is on the National Register of Historic Places. I have visited it. It is truly elegant--situated atop a hill with a view to the valleys beyond. On the property are the remnants of a fruit orchard. There is a pond, and just to the South a lake. (The area around the lake is now a golf course.) The house still sits on a large acreage, although much of the original homestead has been sold. It is truly surprising to behold it and imagine our great-great grandparents living there. The foundation of the barn still stands, and is now a storage shed. There is still a deserted "chicken coop." The house is now owned and occupied by John Martin Smith, a historian and an attorney. He has completely finished and restored it. The interior is finished as an authentic 1860's house, including chandeliers that use candles and antique furniture and accessories. Each room on the main floor has a fireplace. I didn't go up to the second floor, since Mr. Smith wasn't home, but walking through the main living spaces was literally a trip back into time. The cupola would have made an ideal "lookout tower" if, indeed the house was a part of the Underground Railroad.
On March 5, 1857 William Cornell sold a 10 x 6 rod tract in the northwest corner of the property to the Trustees of Butler Township for $5.00 for school purposes.

The following description of the house is taken from "The National Register of Historic Places" nomination form:
"The William Cornell Homestead is located at the top of a hill exactly twenty rods from the center of the Cedar Chapel Road. Its architectural elegance is surprising in a rural setting where wholy functional architecture is the rule. Built c. 1863, it has stood for over a century as the home of several generations of prosperous farmers.
"The foundation is of cut fieldstone. The exterior is brick, as are all interior partitions. Exterior walls are double course with an airspace in between. 'Architectural Gingerbread' is tastefully used at all roof lines. Three different window styles add to the interest of the exterior. Semi-arch windows are used on the first floor level; full-arch windows on the second floor and cupola levels; and 'port-hold' or round windows beneath the eave line on the west wing. Double miniature full-arch windows are located under the peak of the main portion of the house. The arch theme is carried into the brickwork of the chimneys and the interior woodwork. The fake windows at the first and second floor levels in the middle of the east side are unusual.

"The exterior is accentuated by an octagonal cupola. Stairs lead to the cupola from the second floor to the attic and from there to the cupola through a trap-door. There are full-arched windows on the east, north, and west sides and a door opening onto the roof on the south or back side.

"The basement opens onto ground level on the south side. Just inside the door there is a large 'walk-in' fireplace. There are three large rooms in the basement plus an unconnected cistern and root cellar under the south wing.

"There is a large parlor, a bedroom, and a pantry on the first floor in the eastern portion of the house. The west wing includes a dining room, another bedroom, and the stairway to the second floor. The kitchen, summer kitchen, and stairway to the basement are in the south wing.

"The second story consists of a small bedroom and large dormitory bedroom in the west wing and a large unfinished room in the main portion of the house. Over the unfinished room there is an attic which is reached by a stairway from the second floor. Another stair leads through a trap door to the cupola.

"Three fireplaces provided the heat in the original structure. Cookstoves ere probably used in the kitchen and summer kitchen.

"All exterior and interior doors are black walnut. Other interior woodwork is walnut, cherry and oak. There is walnut wainscoating in the kitchen and oak wainscoating in the dining room. The original walnut pantry cupboards are still located in the house. The house is in 90% original condition. the present owners are working toward complete restoration by spring, 1974, after which the house will be used as a residence.

"The architect is unknown but the architecture is most pleasing and there have been no modifications to spoil it."

Additional information on the house was received from Beth Gerig:

A trap door in the kitchen led to a dome-topped cistern below, which once served as a hiding place, and the basement itself was large enough for a buggy to drive in and turn around, ready to make a quick exit. The walls were three bricks thick.

Among the papers that Betty McClanahan sent to me is a chronological history of the house's title. In this report is an abstract of a Quit Claim Deed dated July 7, 1900 and recorded August 25, 1900 (after Mary's death). It is found in Deed Records Book 60, page 415. Mary's widow's 1/3 of the property (48 acres) was divided among the heirs-at-law, and they deeded the land back to
W. Scott Cornell for $50.00 payable within three years:
William H. H. Cornell and Eliza Cornell, his wife.
William Surface and Rosa Surface, his wife (this is a grandson, son of Mary's daughter, Ellen B. Cornell-Surface)
Cora Surface, unmarried (grand daughter) in DeKalb County, Indiana
Benjamin F. Cornell, unmarried in Knox County, Missouri
Sebastian H. Cornell and Margaret E. Cornell, his wife in Knox County, Missouri.

(Note: Sebastian and Margaret lived in Adair County, Missouri. They may have had the Quit Claim papers notarized in Knox County where Benjamin lived.)

John W. Surface (grandson--no acknowledgement) to W. Scott Cornell for $1.00 consideration.

Obituary in the "DeKalb County Republican," February 22, 1882:

WILLIAM CORNELL

"Died--At his residence in DeKalb County, Ind., February 16, 1882, William Cornell, aged 69 years 1 month and 2 days.

"The deceased was born in Fredrick county, Md., and in 1850 came to this county where he spent the remainder of his life; he was highly respected as a citizen, a good neighbor and a well-to-do citizen. He has suffered several years from dropsy, which finally proved fatal. He leaves an aged companion and several children to mourn their loss. The funeral obsequies were performed by Rev. Kelso at Cedar Creek Chapel."

The Cedar Chapel Church is Methodist-Episcopal. The Cedar Chapel Cemetery where William and Mary (Heck) Cornell and many of their descendants are buried is next to the church and just a few miles west of the old Cornell Homestead. Mary was reportedly Lutheran all of her life. According to accounts in historical articles, William was also Lutheran and at least two of his brothers attended Lutheran schools of higher education, Three of the brothers married into the German-Lutheran community. I don't know where William and Mary may have attended church services or why they are buried in a Methodist Cemetery.

I have the probate papers from William's estate. The DeKalb County Clerk was not able to find a will, although there may have been one. There was a fire in 1913 and many papers were lost.

The papers are found in Probate Order Book F; Pages 385, 460, 462, 463, 463, 465. William H . H. Cornell was the Administrator, and sureties of $3000 posted by Magdalene Cornell and Elizabeth Timberlin. Inventory consisted of four hogs, one bay horse, 150 bushels oats, 290 bushels wheat, 27 acres of wheat in the ground.

In Probate Order book 1880-1882, pages 578-585 are the reports of the sale of his farm. The real estate was sold at auction--112 acres in Section 36, Township 33 North of Range 12 East. 48 additional acres were set aside for the widow. The auction was held 28 April 1883. The real estate was purchased by W. Scott Cornell, the highest bidder, for Two thousand Eight hundred and Forty dollars, and it was higher than the appraisal.

These papers are incomplete, as they do not include a listing of the final distributions.

Notes for MARY MAGDALENA HECK:
Mary was born in Frederick County, Maryland--in the part that became Carroll County in 1837. She died at the Cornell home near Auburn in Dekalb County, Indiana. She was living with her son, Winfield Scott Cornell.

Mary's will was made March 29, 1884 (Reconstructed Will record 411).
The report says the will was filed for probate March 6, 1900. Since Mary didn't died until May 25, 1900, the probate date must be incorrect. Since these are "reconstructed" records, to replace lost or damaged ones, it may be that the originals were hard to read.

The will left all real estate to W. Scott Cornell, with equitable charges of $50 each payable within 3 years to W. H. Harrison Cornell, Benjamin F. Cornell, Sebastian H. Cornell, and Ellen V. Surface. W. Scott Cornell appointed Executor.

Obituary in the "Auburn Courier," May 31, 1900:

MAGDALENA CORNELL

Obituary

"Mary Magdalena, daughter of Peter and Mary Heck, was born near Taneytown, Frederick county, Maryland, on the 25th day of December 1812, and went to rest from the labors of this life on the 25th of May 1900, aged 87 years and 5 months. At the age of five months she was baptized by Rev. John Grubb of the Lutheran church of which she was a consistent member to the day of her death. In 1839 she was united in marriage to William Cornell and to this union were born seven children; the husband, one son and two daughters preceding her to the spirit world. In 1850 they emigrated from Maryland to their farm in Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana, where she spent the remaining fifty years of her life. Mother Cornell leaves four children, eighteen grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and a large number of friends and neighbors to mourn their loss. The funeral was at Cedar chapel, Sunday, May 27 at 2:30 p.m., and interment in the cemetery near by. The services were conducted by Rev. W. L. Meese of this place."

Marriage Notes for WILLIAM CORNELL and MARY HECK:
Carroll county was created from parts of Frederick and Baltimore Counties in 1837.

Mary's obituary states that she and William Cornell were married in 1839. Betty McClanahan and Beth Cornell-Gerig place the date at 1840. None of us have a copy of the original marriage record.

vi. NATHAN HENRY CORNELL, b. 08 October 1819, Frederick County, Maryland[26,27]; d. 26 June 1896, <Pennsylvania>; m. MARIA FINGER[28], 1851, Saugerties, New York[29]; b. Abt. 1827, New York.

Notes for NATHAN HENRY CORNELL:

Nathan attended Gettysburg College and Gettysbury Seminary, where he obtained his Theological training. (See additional notes which follow) His brother, Samuel, reportedly spent several terms at Gettysburg College in the 1830's. It was located about 12 miles almost due north of Taney Town where the Cornell brothers were born and raised.

Jesse Emerson sent a query to the Gettysburg College requesting information on Nathan and Samuel Cornell. On 6 June 2001, he sent me a copy of the response from Calvin S. Pitcher, Historian, Town of Ghent:

"You are requesting information on graduates of the Lutheran Theology Seminary at Gettysburg (sometimes called Gettysburg Seminary) but you have contacted Gettysburg College (It was Pennsylvania College until 1921.) Gettysburg College was founded to prepare students for the Seminary, but they were then and are now, totally separate degree granting institutions with their own campuses and their own archives.

"However, on the chance that Samuel or Nathan Cornell attended Gettysburg College, I looked them up in "The Alumni Record of Gettysburg College, 1832-1934," the only extant records of students during that time period.

"On page 9:

"Nathan H. Cornell. A.B. Gettysburg College, 1841. Graduated Gettysburg Seminary, 1844. Born October 8, 1819, Frederick County, Maryland. Lutheran Clergyman: Ardmore, PA 1844-48; West Camp, N.Y., 1848-50; Middleburg N.Y., 1850-54; Ghent, N.Y., 1854-61; Red Hook, N.Y., 1861-63; Chester Springs, PA, 1863-74. Died June 26, 1896. Married Maria Finger, Saugerties, New York, in 1851."

Additional information found in the "Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, Volume Two: Alumni Record," page 1842 and sent by Ms. Drickhamer:

"Nathan H. Cornell was the son of Smith and Mary Cornell of Frederick County, Maryland. He was licensed by the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod, 1844; ordained same ca 1845; pastor at Ardmore, PA, 1844-1848."

All other information in the entry is the same as the record quoted from the "Gettysburg College Alumni."

Nathan Henry was the only Cornell listed as a graduate of the Theological Seminary. Ms Drickhamer found no records for Samuel Cornell in either the College or the Seminary. (He apparently attended but did not graduate from the institution.) However, she did find a notation that "Jacob Cornell" was among a group of students "who entered Gettysburg College between the years 1832 and 1837." (College Alumni Records page 469) There was no further information about Jacob. He could have been Nathan's step-uncle, a half-brother to his father, Smith. I do not have any additional information on Smith's siblings or their children, but it is possible that one of his brothers may have had a son named Jacob.

In a correspondence from Jesse Emerson 5 July 2001, he forwards a report from Christ's Lutheran Church Records:

"Cornell was pastor of the Lutheran Church of Ghent, Columbia County, NY from 1854-1861."

On page 161 of the Record is found:

"Pastors who served: Rev. N. H. Cornell resigned about the first of February of 1861. P. Felton, having received a call in May 1861, entered upon his labors as pastor the first of September the same year."

Beth Gerig found the book "Vital Records of the Christ Lutheran Church, Ghent, Columbia Co., NY, 1801-1901" at the Allen County, Indiana library in September, 2001.

Baptismal records for three of Nathan's children are found on page 47:

Nelson Henry Cornell, born 6 June 1854; parents N.H. and M.A. Cornell; sponsors, N.J. and E. Finger.

Willie Lansing Cornell, born 5 February 1856; parents N.H. and M.A. Cornell; sponsors, parents.

Frank E. Cornell born 10 May 1857; parents N.H. and M.A. Cornell; sponsors, parents.

From "History of Columbia County," by Capt. Franklin Ellis, page 340:

"Records of the Lutherans in Ghent in the early 1800's showed them to be a struggling group ministered to irregularly by pastors from churches in the southern part of the County. Finally, in 1826, Rev. Berger, a graduate of Union College came to serve them. He worked tirelessly for 17 years, adding 173 members to the church. Worthy successors were called to the work in years of steady progress after his death. One of these was Rev. Nathan Henry Cornell, who served from 1854-1861."

""This church congregation first shared a building with the Dutch Reformed Church. In 1845 they started building their own, which was completed in 1846. The corporate name is "Christ's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Ghent."

Nathan was at his first post in Ardmore, Pennsylvania until 1848. He was probably a pastor in Middleburg, New York when he and Maria were married in 1851. His first child, Charles, was probably born in Middleburg in about 1853 and the family moved to Ghent sometime in 1854. Nathan would have been about 34 years old when he took this post.

He was serving as a minister at Ghent in Columbia County, New York when he was visited by his brother, Samuel Cornell in 1859. (See Samuel Cornell's biographical notes in which he mentions this visit.) Family reports and tradition place him in Philadelphia, too. According to the Census reports, Nathan and his family moved from New York to Pennsylvania between 1863 and 1865. They were established in Pennsylvania at the time their son, Gilbert Cornell was born about 1865. It appears that their migration pattern took them from Ardmore, PA to Ghent, New York to Chester County, Pennsylvania to Philadelphia.

Beth has not been able to find Nathan in the 1860 Census, but did send a copy of the1870 Census for Chester County, Pennsylvania. Nathan Henry Cornell is found on page 277, dwelling 143, family 149. He was a resident of the 154th District--West Pikeland and his Post Office was located at Chester Springs. Nathan reported that he was 50 years old, and a Lutheran Minister of the Gospel. He was born in Maryland, and claimed $500 of personal property.

I found Nathan H. Cornell and his family in Philadelphia, PA in 1880. He was a "Retired Clergyman" born in Maryland. His father's place of birth is very hard to read, it might say No C. (North Carolina) There were eight unmarried children living at home. Only Nelson Henry was missing.

Their address was 2828 Poplar in Philadelphia.

A letter from Stella Provines to her sister, Bertha says that they were visited "by Uncle Nathan, his son Charles and daughter, Jessie."

Notes for SAMUEL CORNELL:

Samuel was born and raised near Taney Town in Frederick County, Maryland. He received most of his early education from his father, Smith, who was reported to have been a professor with a specialty in mathematics. He spent several terms at Gettysburg College. He must not have graduated from that institution as he is not found among the Alumni of 1832-1934. Gettysburg is about 12 miles almost due north of Taney Town, and it is in Adams County, Pennsylvania.

Samuel's brother, Nathan Henry was a graduate of the Lutheran Seminary at Gettysburg College. From "Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, Volume Two: Alumni Record," page 1842 and sent from the Archives by Ms. Drickhamer:

"Nathan H. Cornell was the son of Smith and Mary Cornell of Frederick County, Maryland. He was licensed by the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod, 1844; ordained same ca 1845; pastor at Ardmore, PA, 1844-1848." Nathan served as a Lutheran Minister in eastern Pennsylvania and New York until his retirement.

Gettysburg College began in 1826 as a school to prepare students to enter the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. There was also a preparatory classical school, called the "Gettysburg Gymnasium" to teach subjects needed to be able to complete the Seminary's rigorous curriculum. The "Gymnasium" was established on July 4, 1832. I don't know if Samuel attended the College or the "Gymnasium," or both. Samuel's brother, Nathan obtained his Theological training at this same College and Seminary.

On a modern atlas, there is a road that goes directly between the two towns. Samuel's brother, William Henry purchased a farm in Adams County in 1838. Samuel was 17 years old in 1838. I wonder if he may have stayed with William during some of his school years. The educational system was so different then, Samuel may have already completed enough training to follow his teaching vocation.

Samuel traveled back and forth between Indiana and Carroll County, Maryland many times between his first visit in 1838 and his final settlement in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana in June 1850. The trip took about three weeks by wagon, but would have been faster on horseback. Most of the intervening years were spent teaching in various locations--the last being in Washington County, Maryland.

SAMUEL CORNELL

"Samuel Cornell, one of the substantial citizens of Jackson Township, was born in Carrol County, Maryland June 29, 1821, (Note: this area was still in Frederick County at that time) a son of Smith and Mary Cornell. Samuel was the eleventh of his father's family, seven of whom grew to maturity and lived to an advanced age. (Note: Samuel was the youngest of 7 brothers.) Mr. Cornell had good educational advantages in his youth, which he well improved. He was taught mainly by his father, a most excellent preceptor, and also had the benefit of several terms at Gettysburg (Lutheran) College. Mr. Cornell visited this county first in 1838 in company with his older brothers, Benjamin and John. The former settled in Williams County, Ohio, and the latter in Butler Township, this county. Both are now deceased. Samuel remained in this vicinity two years, then returning to Maryland he taught most of the time till 1848. Late in that year he again visited this township (Jackson Township) and selected the place he now occupies, spending a year here. He then returned to Maryland and taught two terms in Washington County. (Note: Samuel may have accompanied his mother, Anna and his brother, Charles when they moved away from Maryland in about 1849--sort of an acting "tour guide?") On March 26, 1850 he was married (in Maryland) to Mary A. Hawver, who was born in Frederick County, Maryland March 19, 1830. The following June(1850) found them in their new home, having made the journey in a wagon, being three weeks on the road. (Note: Samuel's brother, William, also came in 1850. They may have traveled together--neither has been found in the 1850 census. If they were 'on the road,' they could have missed being counted.) Mr. Cornell commenced life in DeKalb County with very limited means, but industry combined with frugality has had its proper reward, and he now has one of the finest farms in this part of the county. His dwelling and farm buildings are unsurpassed, and in his declining years he has promise of plenty of this world's goods, which, combined with the love and esteem of his neighbors, insures him a peaceful old age. Mr. Cornell taught the first school in his district. (DeKalb County) He and his wife are members of the Lutheran Church. In 1859 he was sent as a delegate to the General Synod convened at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania to represent the Northern Indiana Synod, going via Albany and New York City that he might visit his brother, Rev. Nathan H. Cornell, then located at Ghent, Columbia County, New York. He loves to relate the adventures his Hoosier appearance led to. One in particular which occured in the streets of New York City. The Albany boat having reached the wharf at an early hour, he thought he would stroll uninterrupted as the streets were quiet. Walking up Cortland street, the only two men in sight seemed to see something in him worth developing. After some preliminaries one approached him from the front and the other from the rear. This to him meant robbery, but the dauntless bearing and unwavering course of Mr. Cornell caused a retreat of the ruffians, who upon closer inspection found they were mistaken in their man. Mr. Cornell served two terms of four years each as Director of Wittenburg College at Springfield, Ohio. (Note: I don't have dates for these terms of service.) He, as was his father, was a strong anti-slavery man prior to the war, and that in the slave State of Maryland. He is now an ardent Republican. Mr. and Mrs. Cornell have had a family of six children--Mary, deceased, wife of Alexander Freeman; Wesley Calvin of Washington Territory; Hester V., wife of R. C. Provines; Martha E., wife of Thomas Elson; Laura, at home, and George, who died at the age of thirteen months. Mattie Freeman, the daughter of their daughter Mary, has been adopted into the home of her grandparents."

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party.

Note: It is possible that Samuel served ON the Board of Directors of Wittenberg College, rather as THE Director. Beth and I can't figure out when he might have been in Ohio for a period of eight years, since he was reportedly teaching school in Maryland between 1840 and 1848. Samuel and Mary lived in DeKalb County between 1850 and 1860 when their children were born. He could have been on the Board of Directors and traveled to Ohio for business meetings during those years. Since the school was established in 1845, Samuel may have been one of the founders. He was very active in the affairs of the Lutheran Church, and his brother, Nathan was a Lutheran minister.

Wittenburg College is a Lutheran School. It was established in 1845 to serve the educational and cultural needs of new (mostly German) immigrants and new communities. The school provided classes in English, rather than German which was traditional in Lutheran institutions of that time. Its philosophy was that all citizens and not just the clergy, should be educated, and that people should focus on what they share instead of what keeps them apart. Wittenberg's department of theology was important, but it was established as part of a larger college that emphasized the study of liberal arts and sciences. It was named after the old university at Wittenberg, Germany, where Martin Luther posted his famous 95 theses that marked the start of the Protestant Reformation.

Samuel Cornell left a Will dated 10 May 1896 and recorded 20 March 1900 in Auburn, DeKalb County, Indiana: Deed Record Book #60; pages 142-145.

Samuel left Real Estate in Jackson Township to his wife, Mary A. Cornell. It was located in Section 20. He also leaves his money and personal property to Mary. He names his son, Wesley C. Cornell; daughters, Laura L. Marshall, Hester V. Provines, Martha E. Elson. Grand-daughter, Martha Carnahan (in her mother's stead) was left 50 acres of Real Estate in Section 20.

Wife, Mary A. appointed executrix.

According to the 1880 Atlas Map, Samuel's properties were located in the southwest part of Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana in Sections 18 and 20, for a total of 210 acres. The Freeman and Carnahan family farms were just to the south of him, in sections 30 and 31, and he was just a few miles north and east of his brother, William Cornell's home in Butler Township.

Samuel's obituary, in the "Auburn Dispatch" on December 7, 1899 reports that he died Wednesday November 28, at the age of 78 years, 4 months and 20 days. Interment at Cedar Chapel Cemetery -- Both Betty McClanahan and Beth Gerig have a death date of 29 November 1899. It was taken from Samuel's biography in the 1885 History of DeKalb County. We assume that the biography is correct. 29 November 1899 is confirmed in a letter from Estella Provines to her cousin Ralph Marshall dated 15 October 1962. She cites Samuel's Bible as her source.

Notes for MARY ANN HAWVER:

Mary A. Cornell made her will 25 September 1903. It was admitted for Probate on 21 February

Beth Gerig gives 19 March 1830 as the date of Mary's birth. The date of March 19 is from a "History of DeKalb County, Indiana, 1885," a biographical sketch about Samuel Cornell.

Estella Provines, in a letter to her cousin, Ralph Marshall dated 15 October 1962 reports that "Mary Ann Cornell nee Hawver, wife of Samuel, was born 9 March 1830 and died 14 January 1916. They were married 26 March 1850."

She cites Samuel Cornell's Bible for this information, and these are the dates I will use in my report.

OBITUARY
MARY A. CORNELL
"Auburn Courier," January 18, 1916

"Mrs. Mary A. Cornell, a resident of DeKalb County for over sixty years, mother of Mrs. T. F. Elson and Wesley Cornell, living south of Auburn, died at the home of Mrs. Elson Friday noon. She was past 85 years of age and has made her home with her daughter for the last two years. She has been in poor health all winter and was improving somewhat a couple of weeks ago, when she took the grip. She was troubled with her heart and this, together with the grip caused her death.

"She was the daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth Hawver and was born in Frederick County, Maryland. When 21 years old she was married to Samuel Cornell. Shortly after their marriage they came to Indiana, settling in DeKalb County on the farm five miles south of Auburn now occupied by their son, Wesley.

"Mr. Cornell passed away about fourteen years ago. After his death Mrs. Cornell moved to Auburn, where she resided until the beginning of January, 1914, when she went to the home of Mrs. Elson, where she has since made her home.

"Mrs. Cornell is survived by three brothers, Jacob, Henry and Hezakiah, all residing in Tippecanoe, Ohio. Some of these will be here to attend the funeral. Besides her daughter and son and those three brothers, she leaves twelve grand children and twenty-six great grand children. She was a member of the St. Mark's Lutheran Church."

viii. MARY ELIZABETH CORNELL[34,35], b. 15 December 1824, Frederick County, Maryland[36]; d. 01 March 1833, Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for MARY ELIZABETH CORNELL:
The records of the Piney Creek Cemetery published by the Maryland Historical Society on USGenweb for Carroll County Maryland reports that Mary was 8 years; 2 months and 16 days old when she died 1 March 1833. This would give a birth date of 15 December 1824.

Betty,

It is fine with me if you want to use some of my information on the Historical web site. I am always happy to find it when someone else has compiled and submitted such things. I just don't send gedcoms out or post them, as I don't want it to be so easy for someone to just download and merge my files and then claim them as their own (which happened to me when I posted my very first report about 6 years ago). I don't plan to publish any particular book, except for the benefit of my immediate family and interested cousins. I would post my information to the LDS if I could figure out how to edit out the notes. I am happy to share info about the people as far as dates and places, but I am pretty possessive about my notes. Mark Minerd has some nice sketches about Caroline Minerd and her ancestors and John Pring on his web site--<minerd.com> John Pring's parents were Richard Pring and Mary Ann Kear who were among the very first settlers in Van Wert County, Ohio. They were both of adventurous pioneering families. Mark took the info from my notes and put it together with pictures and scanned documents etc. to make some very nice stories. He has an excellent web site. His site is mostly about the Miner/Minerd family, but he has included some affiliated families, also. Some of these also probably lived in the areas around Huntertown.

Betty,
Thanks for all the tidbits of information about the folks around Allen Co and DeKalb county that we are both familiar with. It makes me feel like I know them. There weren't that many families in the early days and you know they all knew each other and probably did business at the same stores and took their grain to the same mills, at least until the railroads came through. It is no surprise that they also became connected through marriages.
When I copy the old plat maps, I try to get as big an area as I can, because I am sure that sooner or later I will find out where these other names fit in.
I have been to the Allen Co Library once. Wish I could have spent more time there. Would also like to be able to spend several days in the Van Wert County region in the courthouse, especially. When I was at the AC Library, they said that they have ALL the records for Indiana and Ohio, so I imagine that would be the place to spend the first whole week, before moving across the border. I have another line that I have not worked on much--the Shaffer family, another German name with lots of different spellings. I know that some of them went to Van Wert and were there at the same time as the Pring and Kear families and were probably also among the first settlers, although not as politically active or influential. I do have some Shaffers on the plat maps I would like to track down via deeds, wills,etc.
Thanks again for your newsy letter.

> John Surfus,one of the best known of the early settlers of the region along the south side of DeKalb and the north side of Allen counties,died at his home on the Allen county side of the line,March 31,1891. He was born in Warren county,Ohio, Oct.7 1812, and his age was therefore 78 years,5 months and 24 days.He was married to Ellen DeLong,June 19,1843,in the then little town of Ft. Wayne. He had already prepared a home and they moved to it at once, and began houskeeping, on the farm where they lived ever since. To them were born 12 children, 9 of whom,and his aged and honored wife, survive him.
> They had been married 48 years and 10 months.Mr. Surfus was always a careful business man, and was owner of several fine farms in both counties, though his home was in Perry township in Allen county. He was always a prominent man in his neighborhood and was held in high esteem by all who knew him.
> Among the children now liviing, is Mrs. Wm. Murphy of thi place. The family have many other relatives about here,Mrs Fair, and Mrs, Perry Fitch being sisters to Mrs. Surfus.
> The funeral was largely attended and was held at Cedar Chapel in Butler twonship, Thursday April @, the interment being in the cemetery there. Rev. Zartman, of Ft. Wayne, conducted the services. Thus passed from earth another of those pioneers to whom northern Indiana owes so much.

Jennie G Surface 45 IN IN IN married at age 44
William H Surface 74 IN IN IN married at age 26 father
Emma C Surface 72 OH NY PA married at age 23 mother

Also William's IN IN IN must be incorrect as he has reported that his father was born in Ohio and his mother in Virginia in the 1900 census.

1900 this Ray was living with his parents William and Emily and was 13 years old. (Noble Co.)
1910 this Ray was living with his parents and was 23 years old. (Jefferson Twp., Huntington Co., IN) 1920 this Ray was still single at age 33, living with his parents, and brother Custis and his wife. Since we are looking for Ray, father of Forrest, born 1917 this eliminates this one!!!
1930 this Ray was head and his parents were living with him and his new wife, Jennie, and no children (Living in Lancaster Twp., Huntington Co., IN)

Since there are no children living with them, it would appear that perhaps they were childless up until 1930 at least.

Ray son of Stephen:
1900 Ray son of Stephen, was 12, called Stephen R., living at home with widowed father, and brother, Custer.
1910, Ray son of Stephen, was 22, single and living at home with his father and step-mother and brother, Custer.
1920, Ray son of Stephen, was 31, with his own family of Melvin, Verna, Manley, Forest, & Otis
1930, Ray son of Stephen, was 43, widowed, with children Melvin, Jean M., Forrest, & Otis
